Editors:

I am concerned with the lack of responsibility of the coaches involved with athletes competing in an age-group junior to their age. The number of incidents that I personally learned about during the past season indicate that there are a small group of coaches who are teaching their athletes to cheat.

My feeling is that we should require: (1) that the coach of a team (or a parent or guardian for an unattached athlete) certify at registration that the date of birth has been verified by him or her, (2) that the coach and/or the athlete be suspended for violation, (3) that the team be disqualified for violation and (4) that the place of birth be so specific that a letter can be sent to verify the date of birth and once it is, a permanent record should be made at the association involved.

To teach a child to cheat another team, another competitor and, most importantly, herself of himself is a terrible travesty.

As far as a cut-off date system is concerned rather than using actual date of birth; there is no no need for this. When the Junior Olympics begin locally, everyone concerned knows what their age will be at the time of the national finals (set a year before.

John O'Shea Wantagh, N.Y.

Editors:

Please stop advocating locking all the kids born in one year into a single group. This gives entirely too much advantage to those born early in the year over those born late in a year. The AAU rules about age on day of the meet are simple, straightforward and fair. It seems to us you would be helping the sport more by trying to get people to follow them.

David Saylors

Editors:

This is to protest the policy of excluding AAU card holders from competing in childrens "Age Group" cross country and track meet which are listed as "Novice" events. I believe that the net effect of this policy encourages mediocrity, dishonesty and results in an impossible burden of administration on meet officials.

To illustrate; at a recent "novice" cross country meet in Redlands, Calif. which promoted "age-group" contests, there was no method of checking ages, so that incentive was provided for the kid who wished to lie about his age. This builds-in an automatic suspicion of any winner.

Although the recreation organization which runs this meet opposes AAU membership competitors in their events the only method of checking is to ask the occasional kid and to rely on entry information. I know that this rule cannot police this rule effectively, as I know of several card holders who competed at Redlands unchallenged. I label the present occasional challenge as grossly unfair and unsporting and believe that to continue on the present course will only encourage persons to ignore rules and to be dishonest.

Furthermore, there is no certainty that AAU card holders are better trained than non-AAU athletes. To encourage the beginning competitor and to attempt to remove entry fee barriers is a laudable goal. I submit that there are much better ways of doing this than the present methods:

(1) Recognize (give awards) to all those who exceed certain time standards,

(2) Consider some other standard such as height/wt. which can directly verified and eliminate age altogether or if classification by age is continued then establish means of verifying age for winners before awards are given.

(3) Do those things which will encourage a vigorous training program. For anyone to encourage untrained kids to compete is viscious and not in ones best interest. Kids should always be encouraged to train and to join organized running groups.

Finally and most importantly, I think that for a municipal sports organization which uses public employees, and public facilities to put on events and then discriminate against selected individuals because of membership in any other group has got to be out of order. I think that such action is clearly illegal.

Another chapter in the Jim Ryun Story

Jim Ryun made the 1964 U.S. Olympic Team as a 17 year-old. The following year he was the best miler in the world. Since that time he has been subjected to the greatest pressures that any U.S. track athlete has ever had to face. Jim has had notable successes, in-cluding several world records, for which he has received the excessive adulation of a largely naive media and public. On the other hand, anything less than a record run has usually been regarded as a failure. His most notable "failure" was an Olympic silver medal in 1968 with a 1500 meter time, under extremely difficult conditions, which was faster than anything run at that altitude before then. Jim was satisfied with his performance, most of the American press and public weren't. He is still trying to live up to others expectations.

In doing so, the Ryun name has been used to increase attendance at indoor and outdoor track meets; his mere presence often guarantees a sellout crowd. It makes little difference if he is in good or bad condition. An unfinished or losing race (or even a winning race in slow time) makes the headlines, in a negative way. Like one time "boy wonders" Bruce Kidd, John Thomas, Gerry Lindgren and others before him, Ryun has been the beneficiary and now the victim of massive oversell. These athletes were never as good as the unknowledgable public believed them to be, nor are they "failures" for failing to live up to the expectations of insatiable "fans".

If we guage the trends in sports correctly, there will be ever greater efforts on the part of shoe manufacturers, meet promoters, coaches, the media and others to capitalize on the popularity of young "winners", no matter what the effect on the physical and emotional health of the athlete. (Kidd ended up with ripped tendons and Lindgren with ulcers in their early twenties). Of course, the athletes have a choice to be exploited or not, but many have their price. After one of his recent, highly-publicized debacles one of Ryun's fellow distance runners was heard to say that Jim was probably the highest paid 4:19 miler in the world.

There may be a need to educate the media and public, as well as coaches and athletes themselves, that there is more to sports than records, winning, headlines and money. Was Baron de Coubertin, the founder of the modern Olympic movment, right in believing that participation is the most important thing? Or shall we follow the Vince Lombardi principle that winning is all that matters?

GIRLS Age Group

Junior girls made a big splash during the recently concluded indoor season. Three 16 year-old distance runners were the biggest splashers of all. WENDY KOENIG, CAROL HUDSON and DEBBIE HEALD surprised their more experienced American and Soviet foes in the major meet of the year - the National AAU Indoor Champion-ships in New York City on February 25 and the U.S.A. vs. U.S.S.R. Dual Meet at Richmond, Virginia on the 17th of March.

U.S. female stars scored one of their infrequent team victories over the Soviet distaffers by a score of 52:43. Debbie Heald was the star of the contest (which included the Men's dual meet as well) as she edged a strong mile field in 4:38.5 (splits of 67, 2:19, 3:30). Her victims were Tamara Pangelova, the European Indoor Champion (4:38.9), U.S. Champ Doris Brown (4:40.1) and European Indoor runner-up Ludmila Bragina (4:54.8). Since these were the best of their respective continents, Debbie might be considered the best female indoor miler of 1972.

Equally astonishing was the 880 victory of Wendy Koenig in the same meet. Though her 2:11.0 time was not especially fast for this type of competition, consider the fact that the versatile Coloradan has been half-miling less than a year and you get some idea of her potential. Third in the same race was New Mexico's Carol Hudson in 2:12.3. These two, plus SUE PARKS,15, and former U.S. Girls Champ Cheryl Toussaint combined to run a speedy 8:42.0 two-mile relay, losing by only four-tenths of a second to the Soviet team.

Three weeks earlier, Carol had finished second at 2:09.5, Wendy third (2:10.5) and Sue sixth (2:15.7) in the Nationals. The first two defeated internationalist Terry Crawford and Canadian Olympian Abby Hoffman. Meanwhile, Heald had placed second in the mile (4:47.5) to Doris Brown, bettering Arizona's KATHY GIBBONS, 17, (4:51.2) by two places.

Other youngsters made their mark in this meet as well. ALICE PFAFF, now 18, placed second in the high jump at 5-8 (same height as winner), while Indiana's CONNIE DORSEY (5-6) and Kansan CHERYL FRIESEN (5-4) were fourth and sixth, respectively, in the same event. Long Jumper GAYLENE BARBER, from Illinois, lived up to her Junior Olympic promise of last year by leaping to a solid third place at $19-5\frac{3}{4}$.

* * * * *

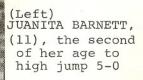

Fashion note: distance runner DEBRA JOHN-SON and hurdler BOBBETTE KRUG were featured in the March issue of SEVENTEEN magazine in an article devoted to the California look in girls. Each girl had a full page spread, along with several other female athletes, with Debbie and Bobbette photographed performing their events on the beach (where else?).

Bobbette commented that she was asked to run over a hurdle so many times before the photographers were satisfied that her technique was sloppy by the time they took the shot. But her hair was still in place. Back on the track, hurdler BOBBETTE KRUG, 15, continued to impress by finishing fourth in the 60 yard, 33 inch version of her event, after running a winning heat in 8.0 and placing third in a semi at 7.9. She chased Olympic team favorites Pat Johnson, Lacey O'Neal and Mamie Rallins to the finish line.

ESTHER STROY, 18, won the 220 in 24.6, defeating among others, Ohio's LAURIE BARR, 18, who ran 24.8 in a heat. These are excellent times for this race, which is not ideally suited for tightly curved indoor tracks. Last year's late season sensation SHEILA INGRAM of Washington, D.C. reached the final in the 440 (after a 56.3 winning heat) but was forced to scratch due to injury. Two young sprinters, Detroit's ALFREDA DANIELS, 16, and MABLE FERGERSON, 17, reached the finals in the 60 yard dash with Alfreda placing third (6.9 in a heat) and Mable taking fourth (7.0 in heat).

Late reports from Cambridge, England, indicate that girls AAU Cross-Country Champ EILEEN CLAUGUS, ran the race of her life in the 59th Annual International X-Country Championships on March 18. The No. California youth was the leading American finisher and placed second (!) overall. She was beaten only by England's Joyce Smith and defeated such famous international stars as Italy's Paola Pigni, plus England's Rita Ridley & Sheila Carey. Congrats to Eileen.

TWO EARLY SEASON OUTDOOR STANDOUTS

We are always pleased to receive results and news from any source, but the reports we get from track programs (especially girls) in New Mexico are a delight. Many times we get results with only first place, or the first three places listed. From New Mexico we invariably get the dittoed results of every timed or measured contestant, including performances in trial heats or qualifying rounds. This has, at times, resulted in the recording of more than 50 athletes in a single event (!). We only wish we had the space to print all the names. Such contributors as John Haaland, David Saylors and Floyd Highfill can take pride in the fact that they care not only about the winners, but all those that take part.

BOYS Age Group

Just one look at the results will show you that the girls are way ahead of the boys in their scheduling.

California and Florida are the only states where boys have begun competition and the few early result sheets are already loaded with excellent performances.

However there is still too little action to report on the boys front, so instead of writing about the news of yesterday, lets take a look instead in what lies ahead in track and field activities for boys and what the plans for Junior National competition are.

As we announced in our last issue, JOE ARRAZOLA, from Colorado, was elected AAU Chairman of the boys track and field committee. According to the memos we receive from his office, we get the strong impression that the boys age-group track movement might very well find in him the kind of leadership it so badly needs. One of his first goals as National Chairman is to have each association run a championship meet. "An association must provide boys of all ages the opportunity to participate in track and field meets. An association that does not provide at least a championship meet for the boys in its area is not justifying its existence" say the new Chairman.

Chester Brooks was named chairman of the record sub committee. The results of each of your meets should be forwarded to him as well as to us. All records should be sent to him. He will be in charge of compiling national tabulation and of approving National AAU records. Any questions concerning policy governing the setting and verifying of records should be addressed to: CHESTER BROOKS, 1525 Bradley Dr., Boulder, Colo. 90303

This summer there will be two National AAU Boys Championships. A chance for a National title is certainly great motivation, and you should start now to inquire into all the details.

1- the National Postal Mile Run for Boys - There are only three approved sites for this meet: Bakersfield, California; Denver, Colorado; and Silver Springs, Md. The age-groups will include: 9-Under, 10-11, 12-13 and 14-15. All inquiries to: GABE MIRKIN, M.D., 9900 Georgia Ave., Silver Springs, Maryland 20902. Refer to the January issue for meet director in your area. 2- On June 30 and July 1, the Jefferson County TC will sponsor the first annual National AAU Boys T & F Championships, in Lakewood, Colo. The age-groups involved will the 12-13 and 14-15. Qualifying standards have been set for each event and are as follows:

Another bit of news: the first USA National Junior T & F Championship will be held also in Lakewood on June 23 and 24 according to AAU Executive Director Ollan Cassell. The competition will be for boys in the 16-19 age bracket. Competition in 19 events will be contested on two nights. The top placers in each of the events at Jefferson County Stadium will qualify for International competition against the Junior of the Soviet Union. The USA-USSR dual meet will be held the weekend of July 28-29 in the United States.

Plans call for the dual meet to be held alternately in the United States and the Soviet Union. The meet director will be Joe Arrazola. His two top aides are Pat Conroy, Lakewood HS Track Coach, and Jerry Shaffer of the sponsoring Jefferson County TC. More information on this Junior National meet can be found in the COAST to COAST section of this magazine.

So you see, there will plenty of activity for the boys this summer, and we owe no small amount to Joe Arrazola, YOUR age-group chairman.

INDOOR MEETS

MODEL CITIES COMMUNITY TRACK CLUB GIRLS INDOOR MEET COLOMBUS, Ohio - January 8 - from ED WHITE

The Community T.C. of Colombus hosted its first girls and women's Indoor meet at French Field House on the Ohio State U. campus. Athletes from Motor City TC (Detroit) recorded outstanding performances among the under-18 athletes competing. standing performances among the under-18 athletes competing. ALFREDA DANIELS, 16, was credited with an incredible 6.5, in breezing to an easy win over Olympian Lacey O'Neal in the 60 yd Dash, while teammate ANITA LEE, 14, leaped 17-9½ and 5-2 in the jumps. She lost the high jump on misses, however, as 14 year old BARB KIRKLEY (Upper Arlington TC) won the event at the same height. BRENDA WEBB*(Kettering Striders) lost narrowly in the mile (5:15.5) to Olympic 800m Champ Madeline Manning Jackson. The latter helped her young Community TC mates to a surprising 880 yard relay victory over Ohio TC and Sports International.

Sprinter LISA TALLEY and jumper DIANE HUGHES scored good doubles in the 12-13 division, while Lisa also earned a gold medal for anchoring an 880 yard relay victory. Lisa's Community TC teammate SHERRYLYNN (that's the spelling) BROWN, scored an even more impressive 220, 440, 880 yard Relay triple, for probably the oustanding individual performance of the meet. Highlights of the 9-Under division was a solo 2:09.4 in the 660 by 6 year-old (!) LAURIE CRAVEN.

1972 PITTSBURGH INDOOR TRACK CLASSIC

PITTSBURGH, Pennsylvania - January 14-15 - from JOHN HARWICK

John Harwick, the coach of the Mt. Lebanon Track Club, was once again the meet director of the annual Knights of Columbus Indoor Classic, an AAU/USTFF sanctioned meet.

A great portion of the two day track activity was devoted to age-group girls conpetition.

In the 9-Under group, JANET GRAY (Frederick TC) was a double winner in the sprints over teammate BARBARA DAVIS. The Ohio TC emerged easy winner in the relays.

LISA LOFTIS, from the Mt. Lebanon TC, was the best performing individual in the 10-11 division, showing tremendous range of ability. Lisa was a triple winner, taking the 50 yd Dash (7.0) the quarter (70.4) and the half mile (2:45). Mt. Lebanon ran away with both relays.

Possibly the outstanding athlete of the whole age-group session was CHERYL PIORIER (Frederick TC), who crushed the opposition in the 50 yard Dash and Hurdles and defeating by a substantial margin SHARON GROTH (Lipke TC) in the high jump (4-8). Another good prospect, KATHY SPECCI (LipkeTC), took both weight events with relative ease. Results of 13 and Under divisions:

Relay (220-110-110-440)

2:01.7

Making the most of her last try in the 12-13 division, the Phoenix Chaparral's KELLY FUIKS tossed the javelin 127-3, a mark which will probably be counted as a national record in this new event and which has been bettered by only one U.S. 13 year-old in history. Kelly added a good 95-7% Discus toss. Preparing for big indoor meet, KATHY GIBBONS, 17, ran a good 880/mile double of 2:12.8/4:56.5 in the open division. Other good marks were turned in by KAREN SCHWANTJE, 15, who got off a 5-3½ high jump and 133-8 javelin throw. National placer Karen will have a new challenger in the latter event however. SUSAN PARKS, 9, sped to a 68.5 quarter (she has run 67.5 indoors), to share honors in her division with CYNTHIA RHODES, who scored another triple win (including a state record 13.0 hundred). DAWN FREEMAN added two state records (including the second best high jump mark ever) in the 10-11 class. CONNIE JACKSON scored another nice sprint triple and SHARI CASSIN lowered the state mile record by 44 seconds (new event). (Meet Director: ROGER SIMPSON; To

PACIFIC AAU GIRLS WINTER CHAMPIONSHIPS

SAN MATEO, California - February 6 - from JIM HUME

National distance champ EILEEN CLAUGUS and her Will's Spikettes teammate TENA ANEX completed good doubles in this annual test of off season condition for girls 14 to 17. It was not sprinter's weather (cool, cloudy/misty) but JANET BENFORD of the new Berkley TC sped to a good hurdle clocking despite adverse winds. Junior Olympic high jump champ DENISE KEMP of Reno, Nevada, opened her season with a modest 5-1.

ARIZONA AAU GIRLS ALL-COMERS MEET

PHOENIX, Arizona - February 19 - from SUE HUMPHREY

DAWN FREEMAN and KAREN SCHWANTJE highlighted the fourth meet of the Arizona outdoor season. Dawn set her third state high jump record for 9-Under in as many meets and came within an inch of Anita Lee's all-time best. Karen responded to some local competition by tossing the javelin 141-0, easily the alltime best by an Arizonian.

Mesa sprinters continued to impress. CYNTHIA RHODES had an other triple and CONNIE JACKSON set a 10-11 state mark in the 220. (Meet Director: ROGER SIMPSON; Weather: partly cloudy; Total competitors: 350). Results of 14-Under competition:

COASTAL GIRLS TRACK LEAGUE MEET

LONG BEACH, California - February 26 - from KEN KARNES

A nice sprint double by newcomer RHONDA JORDAN in the 10-11 class highlighted the opening meet of this five team AAU sanctioned league. A 12.3/27.9 isn't bad for a start, especially on the dirt oval of the Long Beach City College facilities. TRACY HANLON, PATTY McFALL and JUDY JOHNSON were others who scored good double wins.

In the open division, Comet youngsters PAM JEWELL and BEV McQUARRIE ran 19:16.3 and 19:58.0 respectively in a special 5000 meters race. Results of the 13-Under competition:

INLAND EMPIRE GIRLS TRACK LEAGUE MEET POMONA, California - March 11 - from BILL PETERSON

A light turnout of 80 athletes resulted in thin competition in this league's third meet of the year at Pomona College. The crushed brick track and windless weather did provide the setting for some good and close distance races, dominated by one of the nation's best Cross-Country teams, the So. Calif. Cheetahs. MARY LEE ERICKSON, 14, a good sprinter and hurdler tried the proposed 330 yard Low Hurdles for women (30 inch Hurdles, 45m to the first, 35m between, 7 hurdles) with a 47.7 clocking for the distance. She took 19 steps to the first and a consistant 17 steps thereafter.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AAU GIRLS MEET IRVINE, California - March 5 -

A fast all-weather track, good weather, and some aiding breezes assisted MABEL FERGERSON and JACKIE THOMPSON to some mighty fast early season sprint times. Mable ran 11.5/23.7 for metric distances in the open divisions, while Jackie ran almost as fast for yards in the 14-17 group. In addition, MARY DECKER, 13, ran 4:37 for 1500 meters and DEBBIE JOHNSON, 15, ran 10:52.0 for two miles ahead of ESTHER MARQUEZ (11:16.6) and SONIA GERTH (11:17.8). Esther doubled back with a good 8:18.9 in the mile walk.

La Jolla Track Club's KATHY DEVINE got over 40 feet in the 8 pound shot while teammate BOBBETTE KRUG scored a fine long jump/hurdle double in the 14-17 class and CATHY CLARKE did the same in the 12-13 division. The Rialto Roadrunners achieved all-time U.S. age bests: CORINNE NUNEZ, 9, in the 880 and JUANITA BARNETT, 11, became the second of her age to clear 5-0 in the high jump (Anita Lee was the first).

INLAND EMPIRE GIRLS TRACK LEAGUE MEET

PALM SPRINGS, California - February 26 - from BILL PETERSON

Mike Faraday's Palm Spring Fillies team hosted 211 ath letes in their second league meet of the year at this desert playground of presidents (and vice-presidents). Spiro Agnew was not in town, so the athletes had no errant tee shots to dodge, but a wind inhibited the sprint and long jump performances. However the reslite track of Palm Spring High and 90° temperatures did allow some good distance times and good field event efforts were turned in.

In the open division, national champ DEANNE WILSON, 16, opened her high jump season by "flopping" 5-6 with little opposition. KELLY ROBERTSON, 12, of the powerful So. California Cheetahs tossed the javelin 90-10 (an age 12 U.S. Best).

League competition encourages early season experimentation and in this meet, girls under 12 got to throw the discus. Two ten year-olds, JONI ARGENTO and CHARM BISHOP established good standards for their age in this event.

LOS ANGELES JETS BOYS and GIRLS RELAY MEET LOS ANGELES, California - March 12 -

Crenshaw High School was the site of the first L.A. Jets Relay meet for boys and girls. It was very well attended as teams from Redwood City, Menlo Park, Wasco and Oxnard met head-on with some of the best Southern California track teams. In the boys competition, there were some outstanding early season performances. One of the best race of the day was the 12-13 mile, where KEVIN KNOX (Wasco Wildkats) and MIKE DAVIS (Redwood City Striders) engaged in a highly disputed duel, with Kevin emerging on top in the last straight away, in an All-time age 12 Best of 4:54.4. EDDIE LUJAN (Wasco W) put on a great show in the 660, becoming the best ever 11 year-old at that distance with a sizzling 1:40.7. MITCH KINGERY, best 15 year-old marathoner in the nation, showed he had plenty of speed too, running away in the 14-15 mile in a fine 4:31.8.

The distance runs made the news in the boys divisions, but the girls were at their best in the sprints. MARSHA WILLIAMS (oxnard TC) dominated the 10-11 100 in very good form, and TINA ROBERSON did the same in the 12-13 (11.6). The Long Beach Comets took home new SPA Records in 10-11 and 12-13 mile relays and Rialto Road Runners were the new owners of the 10-11 Distance Medley SPA Record. A special note to CORINNE NUNEZ (Rialto RR) for her remarkable win in the 9+Under 660 in the excellent time of 1:55.4.

COAST to COAS

So you think you have problems? Organizing track and field activities can be a headache, as anyone who has tried to do it can testify. But if you dig track and like to see young people doing something constructive and healthful, the rewards (psychic, not monetary) can be great. So the work goes on despite the obstacles. Following are comments of some of the people who are taking the lead in initiating and continuing the expanding track and field programs in their area. The problems they mention are common, but it doesn't stop them one bit.

STEVE HANSEN (Woodland, Washington)

"During the summer months there are numerous all-comers track meets, but there are several barriers that need to be cleared to improve the programs which now exist. One of the major problems has been the lack of qualified officials and there are never enough people to run the meets in an orderly fashion.

Standardization of age groups, and the actual verification of the age of the athletes have always been a major headache. Too many meets are run off in mass fashion, rather than giving the young athletes an actual chance to compete and excel. For instance, to give only three throws or jumps in the field events without ample time to warmup in order to expedite matters, etc ..

In this area, the weather can be a real problem. It is almost always cool, and sometimes down right cold and wet for most of the meets until the middle of June. Even then, many meets are still hampered by cold and wet weather ...

LYLE KNUDSON (Boulder, Colorado)

"Several problems remain obvious with girls track in Colorado. Lack of a sufficient quantity of year-around and balanced (all events and ages) club programs make it difficult, if not impossible, to develop numbers of quality performers for adequate local competition at the more advanced levels.

General lack of interest of development in distance running and technique events (field events and hurdles) make it difficult for those striving for such development.

Perhaps a common problem to all associations is the need for maintaining and improving the leadership toward the development of quality track clubs and quality meets..."

JOHN van BENTHEM (San Diego, California)

"In San Diego the Junior Olympics is not big on the girls track scene. Locally, the event is run by the Recreation Department of the City of San Diego. Communication and coordination between that department and the AAU track clubs has not been good, but is on the up swing with an improved attitude on both sides.

The 1971 Junior Olympics was a perfect example of that former lack of coordination. The Junior Olympics began at 8:30 a.m. in Balboa Stadium and the major San Diego Lancerettes Invitational began crosstown at Grossmont College later in the morning. Many performers chose to skip the Junior Olympics entirely. Some athletes coasted through their performances in the Jr.O., in order to save something for the later meet; others left before their event came up so as not to miss the same event at the Lancerettes meet. The Mickey's Missiles team chose to remain at the Junior Olympics until it was concluded, and then were very disapointed because they missed some events at the Lancerettes'. The local Jr.O. did not include a 9-Under for girls, ran 50 yard hurdles, instead 80 for the older girls, etc., etc...'

HUGO PRUTER (New York City, N.Y.)

"I would like to make some personal comments on the condition of age-group track & Field in the NY metropolitan area. That's just the problem, it's just track and not track & field. Ex cept for the long jump (and sometimes not even that). In the Junior Olympics, field events are practically non-existent. There is never a high jump!! That's right NEVER a high jump. There is no age-group Shot, Discus, Javelin nor hardly a baseball throw (only once last year). It is not that the association has not tried, but there too few entries to make an event.

I think that much of this lack of interest has been in part from the result of the dominance of two clubs in the city, the ATOMS and the PAL. These clubs have unintentionally stifled the development of more clubs. And you need plenty of clubs to produce an interest in various events.

The development of new clubs on Long Island has produced large fields in the distance events and a mature cross country season. Without these clubs there would be little interest in distance running in the New York area. A similar phenomena needs to occur in the field events.

Needless to say, the AAU has not produced a program for age group boys as it has done for the girls. But this is true for every region. Other than the PAL meets and the RR clubs, the boys have no true age-group track program except the Junior 0lympics. Now the boys are understandably reluctant to pay a $2 membership fee and a dollar's worth of entry fees for only one meet. And this year the fee will be raised to $3. What the AAU needs is a $.50 age-group membership fee. By the laws of economics they will probably get more money this way ... "

TEAM NEWS

Below are some changes and additions to the Directory of Girls and Boys track & field Teams, which appears in the 1972 STAR-TING LINE HANDBOOK (see ad elsewhere in this issue). Notification of other such changes (which will be printed regularly on this page in future editions) are welcomed.

CHANGE: NAME of Mid-City Track Club (Southern California) to MOUNTAIN VIEW STRIDERS.

to Phoenix Chaparrals (Arizona), coach SUE HUMPHREY, 1902 East Meadowbrook, Phoenix, Arizona 85016.

ERASING OUR MISTAKES

Our publication has something for everyone. Some people like to find errors, so we put some of those in too. We welcome corrections, such as the ones you will find below.

- Marks listed for boys 14-15 in the 1972 HANDBOOK, in the 1.0 kg Discus, should be included in the 1.6 kg Discus.
- Shot putter Heidi Kauti, who was listed as 12 in the January issue, was actually 13 at the time and is now 14 (as of April 11).
- Due to a printers error, some of the Girls Midget (10-11) events (440, 660, 880, HJ, LJ, Baseball and Shot Put) in the Junior Olympic tabulations were listed under the Junior (12-13) division. Other errors of commission or omission have been pointed out. Since these tabulations were excerpts from the Official Junior Olympic Tabulations (and were not checked, but merely reported by STARTING LINE), the remaining errors lie within the reporting and recording of the Junior Olympic Association Championships. More often than not, the errors result from the submission of inaccurate reports or no re-How many mistakes can you find for the next issue? We are game.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - Ken Hansen

ports at all from the local officials.

The first USA National Junior Track & Field Championships, that will be held on June 23 and 24 in Lakewood, Colorado, promises to be the most prestigious track competition contested in Colorado since the AAU outdoor Championships were held in Boulder in 1959.

In regard to this type of competition, Ollan Cassell, Executive Director of the AAU , said: "Junior Competition (19 and under) in Europe has reached enormous proportions and is largely responsible for the emergence in track and field of many top caliber international European Athletes. For some time, Europeans have held Junior National competitions and a European Junior Championships from which have emerged such stars as the world's number one ranked sprinter, Valerij Borzov of the Soviet Union, Great Britain's distance star, Dave Bedford, and the Soviet's high jumper, Kestutis Sapka".

Among those who will be eligible for the USA Junior Cham pionships at Lakewood will be Marshall Dill, who recently set a world indoor record for 300 yards. The Michigan state freshman won a silver medal at the Pan-Am Games at age 18, and was fourth ranked in the world at 220 yards last season.

Russ Francis was an All-American in the javelin at 18 with a 259-9 toss last year and 19 year-old Jeff Taylor recently cleared 17-0 in the pole vault.

The running events will be the 100, 220, 440, 880, mile, 3 mile, 6 mile runs, the 120 yard and 440 yard hurdles and the 3,000 meter steeplechase. On the field, the Juniors will compete in the pole vault, high jump, long jump, triple jump, collegiate shot, discus, javelin, hammer throw and 10 kilo walk is also included in the program.

Competition will be for boys in the 16-19 bracket. Make your reservations now.

NEXT ISSUE

One of the better age group meets of the year, both from the standpoint of competition and organization is the Phoenix "Invitational" for Girls, which took place on March 25/26. Some great distance races and superb performances resulted. We will have a complete report in the next issue. Don't miss it.

TECHNIQUE & TRAINING

Middle Distance Runners

by BROOKS JOHNSON

No group has had more success with middle distance (440 and 880) runners of both sexes than the athletes coached by Brooks Johnson. His Sports International team has had two girls in AAU or Olympic trials finals ever since 1966. Esther Stroy made the 1968 Olympic team at age 15, after only ten months of training. Martin McGrady went on a world record breaking spree indoors after only three months of the type of training described below.

In the middle distance runner we are primarily looking for rhythm, balance and speed - and in that order. The basic intangibles of competitive athletes (desire, determination, etc.) are already assumed. It is the purpose of this piece to single out the particular attributes we look for in a middle distance runner and to discuss ways of developing and refining these particular attributes.

Rhythm is simply a concept of time and timing over an elapsed period in space, or even more plainly, a feel of tempo. A person who cannot "feel" or "sense" the natural rhythm and time of his or her event cannot expect to be great in that event. We all recognize that the most efficient way to perform work through our own energy is in a rhythmic pattern. Some people are born with a great sense of time while others are sensitive, receptive and coordinated enough to gain it through work.

Even if we assume that a good sense of time is present as a native gift, it still must be refined and honed down to what we call "race pace". This is simply the rhythm at which the arms and legs pass each other while an athlete is moving at a rate that is competitive for his or her event. "Race pace" gets better and easier with practice and continued execution. This is the reason we suggest a great deal of work at "race pace". We have seen too many athletes, superbly conditioned, lose out because their physical stamina was outstanding, but their feeling and ease at the "race pace" was off and they "tied up".

The only way to get ease, comfort, and relaxation at "race pace" is to practice and exercise at that tempo or faster. Training a person on :60 quarters when you expect them to compete at :55 is really self-defeating after a point. Sure :60 quarters are perhaps good background and conditioning work, but once a certain threshold of stamina has been reached, they are virtually worthless in terms of significantly helping with :55 quarters. People who train at :60 develop a rhythm and sense of feel for :60 quarters. The more desireable work and tempo should be nearer the actual "race pace" and rhythm.

By balance we mean the ability to keep the essential elements of work in a productive relationship to each other. This involves the body and its various functions as well as such intangibles as tempo or rhythm. Besides the obvious physical relationship to external elements, it also deals with the fine and precise coordinate functioning of mind, body, and spirit and the way in which each blends with each other in an exacting expenditure of effort.

Also related to balance is a sense of proportions. By this I mean the ability to come up with the right mixture of the "expenditure/conservation of energy dichotomy". In middle distance running it is essential that there be a delicate balance and proper proportion of effort spent over a sustained period of time, when and where the right amount is used up and the right amount is saved, to be used later, over a given distance.

There must be a kinetic "feel" or "sense" of this balance principle, or it must be developed and learned over a period of repitition and effort in a meaningful context, meaning simply that the athlete must function within the pace environment that he or she is going to encounter in actual competition. Again, if your target is :55 then time spent off that mark is not as productive as time spent on the mark or within that particular :55 context.

Speed is placed third on the list simply because we feel that it is the tertiary concern of a coach trying to develop a middle distance runner. This is not to say that you are going to make a good middle distance runner by stressing rhythm and balance alone. We assume that a middle distance candidate already has "good" speed. Why do we assume that? Simply because we feel that if the athlete had "excellent" speed he would be a candidate for the sprints, and if he or she was not possessed of a sufficient speed, the coach would not (in his right mind) he considering the athlete for middle distances.

But we have discovered that speed is often times the product of repeated efforts at a given rhythm. Stamina and strength allow the athlete to operate at these tempos, but the internal "sense" and "feel" is developed by repeat work at tempo necessary to maintain "race pace". All too often we have observed athletes who obviously have speed potential that is never realized because they are not worked often enough at the rhythms necessary to become familiar and at ease with these tempos.

TRENDS IN AGE GROUP TRACK - by HARMON BROWN

Strength Training. Athletes and coaches in track have become aware of the value of overload training with weights, etc. Some may want to apply this type of training to Age Group athletes. To date, no studies have been done concerning the value of such training in pre-adolescents. Training with heavy weights is probably of limited value until muscles are beginning to mature during adolescence, when sex hormones can interact with overloads to improve strength.

On the other hand, the hazards may be considerable. A number of young boys have sustained severe injuries to the open growth centers (epiphyses) while attempting heavy power training. For these reasons, I recommend that overload training be limited to exercise which use the body's weight for overload, i.e. - hops, push-ups, toe raises, etc. These exercises can be used to great advantage by hopping up hills, for example.

Fun & Games

Olympic Games/its Heroes

The 20th Olympiad will be held in Munich, Germany, this year. In view of the timeliness of the topic, we began a series of articles on the Games in the January issue. In last issue we had Part one of the Ancient Games - Origins and Myths.

Part 2-THE ANCIENT GAMES- Rituals & Heroes

The ancient games, for spectators and competitors were largely religious in character. The Olive grove near the temple of Hera was sacred territory and the whole Olympic enclosure was dotted with shrines in which there were sacred fires that were never allowed to die out. The Games never extended beyond five days for athletic performances, but the temples were kept open all through the year.

Olympic victors in the ancient games were more than athletic heroes; they were national idols, and after death received the worship of minor gods.

For some centuries, the games were strictly amateur and the prizes were olive wreaths. All the expenses incident to competing were paid by the competitor or his family. The participants in the chariot races had to furnish their own chariots and horses. A certain amount of money and leisure were definitely needed to support the athlete through training and the trips to and from the games. Besides, an Olympic victor was supposed to foot the bill for a banquet in celebration of his triumph. All this, of course, narrowed the field to those who could spare the time and whose family had the money to spend.

The training of the Olympic athletes was very strict. All competitors had to swear that they had undergone a period of ten months of training before appearing at Olympia, and that they would not cheat in any way. Anyone caught cheating was required to erect a statue in Olympia, bearing his name and the nature of his offense. On the grounds they went through a 30 day period of training under the eyes of Olympic instructors. They were fed and exercised according to rigid rules.

According to written records, all the athletes followed a strict discipline. After a breakfast of fermented bread and grape juice, a morning of punishing exercises was followed, without stopping for lunch, by another training session in the afternoon. In the evening a large dinner was served to all athletes. In the early Olympics, vegetable, fruits and plenty of cheese was the daily menu. Later, fish and meat appeared. According to some sources, Milo of Crotona and Theagenes of Thasos, the greatest wrestler and boxer of antiquity, respectively, each ate a broiled ox at one sitting! There may be some exaggeration in this story, but there is evidence that the Olympic athletes of ancient Greece averaged over 6 pounds of meat per man per dinner. Alcoholic beverages and cold drinks were entirely taboo.

The names and feats of many champions of ancient games have been recorded for posterity. Some of them have become a legend in the history of the Games. Polydamas of Thessaly, could kill a lion with his bare hands, and once stopped a chariot going full speed by seizing the back of it with one hand.

Chionis, a famous champion of the middle of the 7th century, B.C., is credited by modern researchers to have long jumped, almost certainly with the aid of dumb-bell weights in his hands, 23 feet 1½ inches.

Maybe the greatest and best known Olympic star of the ancient Games was Milo of Croton.

As a young man he was so determined to win, that he trained by carrying a calf on his shoulders every day, until it was a full grown bull. Milo could hold a piece of fruit in his hand so firmly that no one could pry his fingers open, yet he never crushed or bruised the fruit. He could tie a cord around his forehead, take a deep breath and hold it so long that the veins in his forehead swelled until the cord broke. He was never defeated in 24 years of competition.

For centuries the Ancient Olympic Games were the great peaceful events of the civilisation that was Gn ece. But as the glory of Greece began to fade, the games lost their ancient spirit and significance. Winners were no longer contented with simple olive wreaths as prize. They sought gifts and money. Instead of being religious and athletic festivals, the games became carnivals and circuses. They dragged on to a lingering death and were finally halted by a decree of Roman Emperor Thoedosius I in 394 A.D.

The Olympic temples were pillaged by invaders and the next Roman Emperor ordered the razing of the old boundary walls. Earthquakes completed the ruin of the remaining edifices and the Alpheus River rose to cover the plain on which the Olympic Games had started.

The sacred fires are long since cold, but we still have the Odes to the Victors of Pindar, the marbled statues of Phidias and the recorded feats of ancient Olympic athletes to serve as example and inspiration to the Modern Olympic Games, that were to begin again in 1896, 1503 summers later.

OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS CONTEST WINNERS

Six of our readers found 32 or more names in our puzzle of famous Olympic Champions in the January issue. There were 37 last names of track & field gold medal winners hidden in the puzzle (43 if you consider that some champions had the same last name).

The leading expert was Janna Quitney of Glencoe, Minnesota who named the astounding total of 38 individual champions. Others who had a real "eagle eye" and good reference books included: Paul Zarowin, 16, Brooklyn, N.Y. (36 names); Kevin Saylors, 12, Albuquerque, N.M. (35); Marlene Harewicz, 13, Pittsburgh, Pa. (34); Cathy Clarke, 13, La Jolla, Cal. (33) and Steve Hansen, Woodland, Wash. (32). Youngest contestant was Debbie Klaproth, 12, Jackson, Mo. who got 22.

Taking only individual Olympic Champions and excluding relay team members, the hidden names were; Bob BEAMON, Greg BELL, Abebe BIKILA, Ralph BOSTON, Valeriy BRUMEL, Bill, Henry & Sabin CARR, Glenn, Otis, and Walt DAVIS, Charles DUMAS, Lee EVANS, Ray EWRY, Armin HARY, Bob & John HAYES, Dave HEMERY, Kip KEINO, Romuald KLIM, Vladimir KUTS, Douglas LOWE, Janis LUSIS, Bob MATHIAS, Randy MATSON, Billy MILLS, Paavo NURMI, Parry O'BRIEN, Mikio ODA, Al OERTER, Jesse OWENS, Mary RAND Toomey, Norman READ, Wilma RUDOLPH, Guinn & Tommie SMITH, Peter SNELL, Kitei SON, Morgan TAYLOR, Eddie TOLAN, Wyomia TYUS Simburg, Juan ZABALA and Emil ZATOPEK.

We will have another contest on the Olympic Games next month, so keep your wits sharp.

SPI's Wonder Kids

Distance running for age-group boys was greatly in vogue last year, and many of the highlights were provided by four youngsters from the east, who live over 30 miles from each other, who train together and are in the process of rewriting the record book.

MIKE McKINNEY, out of Dale City, Virginia, lives 50 miles from GENE MIRKIN's Rockville, Md. home, which is 30 miles from CHRIS SHERWIN's Catonsville, Md. home which is 35 miles from JOE INTERLANDI's home in Cheverly, Md. Yet the dedicated parents of the four have chauffered countless miles so that these four kids can train together daily and race together weekly.

The four are separated in age by 14 months at the most and they have been picking up each others records as they go. Gene Mirkin's 5:57 as a 7 year-old didn't touch Wasco's Kevin Knox 5:53, but along came McKinney to run a fantastic 5:29.8 in that age group. Gene ran 5:40.8 as 8 year-old, but Chris Sherwin will certainly go 20 seconds faster at that age.

In the RRC of America X-Country Championships in New York, Gene and Chris were 1-2, with McKinney back in fifth and Interlandi in 8th. In the Eastern regional Jr. Olympic X-Country Champs, they were 1,2,3,4.

A story has to lie with the parents who make everything secondary to the boys training schedule. Joe Interlandi Sr. is a route salesman who plans his route each day around his kid's workout. Walter Sherwin is a college progessor of the classics who won't schedule a class after three o'clock. Doctor Gabe Mirkin closes his office each day at 4:00 p.m. While Captain Ronald McKinney was off preparing for a Viet Nam tour, his wife Ginny became a sometimes 100 miles a day chauffeur.

Why do they do it? That's easy; they are all fair to mediocre Run-for-your-Life runners, who are just keeping one step ahead of the kids. The mothers never miss a race and each boy has a running sister.

The moral of the story is that the family that runs together, drives hundreds of miles each week.

Greg Hansen

Greg Hansen of the Woodland Track Club (Washington) has been one of the outstanding age-group performers for the past three years. He was highly rated nationally in the long jump, triple jump and pole vault.

Young Greg is the son of the founder and coach of the Woodland TC, Steve Hansen. At 4-6 and 64 pounds, the 11 year-old Hansen competes against athletes that are much larger in nearly every meet. The past season, in his area, he was undefeated in the pole vault, and lost only once in the long jump.

Greg is a well rounded athlete, who competes in all running events from the 100 up to the mile. His versatility was demonstrated by his decisive victory in the Woodland TC decathlon last year in the 11-12 age group.

Greg is a fine basketball player as well and in his school work is strictly an "A" student. His progression in the jumps have been as follows:

Age	Long Jump	High Jump	Triple Jump	Pole Vault
9	$13-9\frac{1}{2}$	3-8		7-3
10	$15-7\frac{1}{2}$	4-2	29-3	8-3
11	16-2	$4-6\frac{1}{2}$	31-44	8-7

Robin Perry

One of the more impressive performances at last years National Age Group Meet in Bakersfield, Calif. was the cool way in which 12 year-old Robin Perry ran away from an excellent field in the mile. Her 5:06.8 was the fourth best on record in the 12-13 group and she has a full season to better that.

Now 13, Robin has added a smashing victory in the RRCA cross-country meet and a tough second place (to Mary Decker) at the AAU Nationals in cross-country.

Robin is Ambler all the way. She was born in this Pennsylvania town, is now an eighth grader at Ambler Jr. High and runs for Larry Wilson's Ambler Olympic Club, which is becoming noted for turning out quality runners - distance and sprint. She has two brothers who run track, Bill (20) and Brad (17), plays field hockey and has picked up the nickname "pigeon". Her progress since age ten shows she can really fly:

Year	Age	440	880	Mile
1969	10	74.5-	2:39.8-	-5:42.4
1970	11	69.0-	2:30.0-	-5:26.1
1971	12	65.1-	2:21.5-	-5:06.8

But Robin has set some high goals for herself - attending college, running a 4:41 mile & getting to the '76 Olympics. Right now, she is dedicating herself to 10 months per year training, 5-6 days per week. She runs fartlek, intervals, hills and speed work during the cross-country season; does calisthenics, exer-genie work and interval 50-150 yd. sprints in the Wissahickon High School hallways during the indoor season; and combines these workouts during the outdoor season (April to August). 19

Alan Aiken

My name is Alan Aiken. I was born on November 10, 1960 in Los Angeles, Cal., and I am a sixth grade student at Transfiguration School. I began my career in track when I was 8 years old. Our YMCA had a Jr. Olympics and I won the 40 yd dash by over 5 feet, maing my father realize that I was quite fast. He inquired to see what track programs existed for young boys, and I have been running ever since.

Sprints are my favorite events, because you have to put forth everything now; one mistake and you are dead. Although my father has always been my coach, I have been greatly helped by pointers I have received from Willie Deckard and Lennox Miller, two of the best sprinters in the business.

As far as I am concerned, anything that will help me improve is good training. Generally, calisthenics that include a lot of push-ups and sit-ups, 10 X 100 at 3/4 speed and a few 220's and 440's are part of my workout.

At the present time I am a little handicapped by my lack of height, since the only boys who have defeated me were 10-12 inches taller.

My progression reads like this:

Age	50	100	220	440
8	7.0	13.2	31.0	72.9
9	6.7	12.7	29.1
10	6.5	12.4	28.2	68.8
	My im	nediate	goals
11	6.2	12.0	28.0	64.0

My hobby is auto racing and I also play football. I am a "B" student, with math as my favorite subject. To your question of what my objectives in track are - the answer is simply to become the world's fastest human, winning the 100 & 220 in the Olympics. What else?
