REEL TALK

Of necessity, this edition of WTFW was prepared the first of June for release in August. Of course it is not possible to have late, up-to-date figures for the Olympic contestants, but we have given you here our selections for the first eight places in each event plus information on the leading other contenders. We hope this edition will help you in your enjoyment of the Games and will provide you with a big laugh when the final results are in. A quick review of our predictions prior to the 1968 Olympics shows we picked the following winners correctly: Szewinska in the 200m and upset winner Viorica Viscopeanu in the long jump. Since there are more events in 1972, we hope to have more winners this time.

In addition to our unimpeachable selections, we have also listed the predictions of the WTFW staff - these predictions were made more than a year before the Games by 41 correspondents from 28 nations. How did the correspondents do with their predictions in 1968? They picked Szewinska in the 200, Manning in the 800, Becker in the pentathlon and the USA in the 400m relay. So perhaps you should trust them.

Just to add to the fun, pick your own list of winners and compare with the "experts" - no cheating, now. Regardless, these should be the best Games ever and we are looking forward to covering them for you. The results issue will be mailed as quickly as possible after my return from Germany.

Synopsis:-There is no doubt that the sprints lost a lot of their luster with Chi Cheng's operation which forced her out of the Games - this would have been a magnificent final to watch and one track fans have been waiting for for a long time. But it is not to be, and Stecher apparently stands head and shoulders above the rest. Not that she will have it easy, but she is the class of the field. Szewinska is back in good form and if she gets off with the gun could challenge for the gold. There are no other super sprinters - many good sprinters and they will battle for the bronze. Mickler may not enter this event figuring four fast 100's will not help the long jump or the pentathlon. If it was Australia's 'season' Boyle might be ranked higher. Annum has been inconsistent this season as has Davis, but both could surprise. Wilma van Gool (vd Berg) might move up a few notches if she has an injury free season.

SYMBOLS: OG=Olympic Games; PA=Pan American Games; EC=European Championships; CG=Commonwealth Games; DNQ=Did Not Qualify; T=Tie; i=Indoor mark. For example, 3EC66=3rd 1966 European Chmps.

 Quarter Finals - Monday, September 4 @ 1620
 Semi Finals - Wednesday, September 6 @ 1515

World Record:-22.4 by Chi Cheng (Republic of China) 1970.

Olympic Record:-22.5 by Irena Szewinska (Poland) 1968.

1968 Results: 1-Szewinska (Pol) 22.5, 2-Boyle (Aus) 22.7, 3-Lamy (Aus) 22.8, 4-Ferrell (USA) 22.9, 5-Montandon (Fra) 23.0, 6-Tyus (USA) 23.0, 7-Bailes (USA) 23.1, 8-Stock (GFR) 23.2.

WTFW Staff Predictions, January 1972: 1-Stecher (GDR), 2-Chi (ROC), 3-Szewinska (Pol), 4-Boyle (Aus), 5-Balogh (Hun), 6-Annum (Gha), 7-Lawson (USA), 8-Strophal (GDR), 9-Helten (GFR), 10-(tie), Vogt (GDR) and Berto (Can).

Synopsis:-On paper, this should be a two woman race between the defending Olympic champion from Poland, Irena Szewinska, and the jet-charged GDR European champion, Renate Meissner. The second file of Balogh, Boyle and Annum might be close, but theoretically will be left behind. Unfortunately, things never seem to work out in actuality as they are supposed to, so this just might be a closer race than anticipated - but let's face it, Stecher and Szewinska are the only "super stars" in the field. Getting below the 23 second barrier isn't quite as tough in 1972 as it was in 1968, but getting under 22.4 - well, that's another problem.

Stephanie Berto Canada	19	5'3¼	23.3	PanAm Champ; 72 season not good; long shot chance; must lose weight.	In over her head	40-1

Synopsis-One of the great competitive races of the 1972 Games will be the 400m. Defending champion Colette Besson returns and has spent the past years since Mexico building strength through 800s; the East German's have been going wild in this event with Seidler, Zehrt and the rest; the West Germans, while not having as 'sensational' a 400m crew as the EG, have perhaps the best balanced group led by Frese, Bodding and the rest; Australia's Judy Pollock and the USA's Madeline Manning Jackson are both taking dead aim at this title and Hungary's fast improving "Gyorgy Girl" -Balogh, could just be the one to take it all. It will be tough to make it into the final and the strongest will be there. We will miss Neufville - much.

Name & Country	Age	Height	Best	Background	Remarks	Odds
		Weight	Mark
1-Helga Seidler GDR	23	5'5 1/4	52.1	Eur Chmp 71; won EC by huge margin; recently lost to teammate; is tough.	Slim edge in difficult event.	5-1
2-Monika Zehrt GDR	19	5'5 1/4	51.9	Eur Jr Chmp; Early season marks outstanding.	Beat top one earlier	6-1
3-Colette Besson France	26	5'6 1/2	51.7	Defending chmp; will be coming in the stretch.	Dangerous with her closing surge.	7-1
4-Gyorgy Balogh Hungary	24	5'5	52.7	Just beginning to learn how to run this race; has most speed of anyone.	Most early speed; hard to overhaul.	8-1
5-Judy Pollock Australia	32	5'2 1/2	52.6	World best in 67; took time out for 2 babies, now after Olympic gold.	Could be the big surprise	8-1
6-Madeline Manning Jackson USA	24	5'8 3/4	xxxx	Disregard best time; if Madeline wants the 400 gold, Madeline just might get it.	Olympic 800m champ trying for double in 72; tough, tough competitor.	8-1
7-Christel Frese GFR	28	5'4 1/2	52.4	2EC69; 2EC70; EurIndChmp 72; Bad year in 71, now ready.	Needs more speed to beat top ones; is determined and tough in stretch.	8-1
8-Kathy Hammond USA	20	5'5 1/4	52.1	US Ind Chmp 72; suspended 71 season has cost her a good running base.	Return to 69 form will make medal possible - not probable but possible.	10-1

OTHER LEADING CONTENDERS:

Natalya Chistyakova USSR	26	5'9 3/4	53.2	3OG68; 5EC71; Olym.medalist now remarried, personal problems settled; wise runner.	A tough and wise competitor but inconsistent.	15-1
Nicole Duclos France	25	5'5 3/4	51.7	Another new momma; now returning to sport and could challenge leaders.	Her best can score here EurChmp 69.	15-1
Karin Lundgren Sweden	28	5'5 1/4	52.8	EurIndChmp 67; 5EC69; An experienced runner but lacks blazing speed.	American trained in 72; needs more early speed - good closing.	18-1
Inge Bodding GFR	25	5'0 1/2	52.9	Tiniest 400 runner; 2EC71	Tough fighter; May be hard to beat.	20-1
Ingelore Lohse GDR	27	5'8 3/4	52.5	Member WR 4x400 relay; could make final.	Good pacer; might get to final	20-1
Carmen Truste Cuba	23	5'8	52.8	2PA Games 71; Inconsistent.	Best effort would move her up	20-1
Marika Eklund Finland	24	5'8	52.7	6EC71; New to the event, with great promise.	Seasonal improvement could place her in top six.	20-1
Rita Kuhne GDR	25	5'9 1/4	52.7	Still another GDR 4x400 team member; great talent.	Tough task for this filly	20-1
Janet Simpson Great Britain	28	5'5	52.5	4OG68; Done little racing since OG, but now apparently eager to have a go.	Top effort could move her into contention.	20-1
Mable Ferguson USA	17	5'6	53.3	71US Chmp at 16; Good potential, but inconsistent.	Might surprise everyone	25-1

Synopsis:-There is no doubt that if everyone who is a strong contender enters this event, it will be the best race of the Games. Just take a look at this lineup: Madeline Manning Jackson, the defending Olympic champion and record holder, co-holder of the world 880y record; Hildegard Falck, world record holder 800m; Judy Pollock, co-holder world 880y record; Vera Nikolic, the frustrated favorite of 1968 now ready and anxious to erase the blackness of Mexico; GDR's two aces Gunhild Hoffmeister and Karin Burneleit; Pan Am champion Abby Hoffman; 1968 Olympic Games runner-up Ileana Silai - and my favorite "dark horse", Austria's Maria Sykora. You'll have to agree, this will be one tough race. Many of the top favorites plan to double in the 800/1500 and it's too bad a 400/800 double is not possible also. The toughness of this 800 may make some runners change their mind and compete elsewhere!

Synopsis:-A new event for the women who finally have something a real distance runner can sink her teeth into - but most eagerly await the official sanctioning of the 3000m next. In spite of the fact this is a new event, the quality and the quantity is very high. With world record holder Karin Burneleit, former world record holder Jaroslava Jehlickova, another former record hold Paola Pigni (who now has the world 3000 record) all tangling with such top notch runners as Tamara Pangelova, Ellen Tittel of West Germany, the depth of the British crew and such untested, but capable runners as the USA's Debbie Heald, who upset the Russians indoors at a mile with a new world record, five-time International Cross Country champion Doris Brown and many others - this promises to be a dog fight down to the final step.

Synopsis:-New distance (100m), new spacing of hurdles, more hurdles - it all adds up to a far better hurdles event for the women than the old 80m race. And suddenly the hurdles seem to be the 'old ladies race' with Balzer 34, Ryan 33, Straszynska 30, Nowak 30 and Rallins 31 among the leading contenders. Sentiment favors Balzer, the 1964 Olympic Games champion and the world record holder for the 100mH; Pam Kilborn - third in 64 and then undefeated until the final of the 68 Games when she finished second to countrywoman Caird. But we lean toward Annelie Ehrhardt as the winner with another youngster, Teresa Sukniewicz as runner-up. We shall see.

Name & Country	Age	Height	Best Weight Mark	Background	Remarks	Odds
1-Annelie Ehrhardt GDR	22	5'5 1/4	12.7	2EC71; EurIndChmp	Fast improving filly with near flawless form should take it all.	3-1
2-Teresa Sukniewicz Poland	23	5'7	12.7	5EC69; Poor year in 71 due to studies; now ready.	Will be there at the finish	4-1
3-Pam Kilborn-Ryan Australia	33	5'1 3/4	13.0w	2OG68; 3OG64; OG Chmp; Lack of international competition hurts.	Could take it all	4-1
4-Valerie Bufanu Rumania	26	5'7	12.9	7EC71; Just now learning the event and is a real threat with great speed.	Has speed, been chasing the others	5-1
5-Karin Balzer GDR	34	5'7 1/2	12.6	WR; EurChmp; OG Chmp 64; 5OG68; Fantastic career.	Sentimental favorite and don't be surprised at gold; great technique.	5-1
6-Margit Bach GFR	21	5'6 1/2	13.1	126	Youngster with fine ability; needs more 'oomph'.	Could be here or might not get past trials.	8-1
7-Danuta Straszynska Poland	30	5'4 1/2	12.8	123	4EC71; 6OG68; 6EC66; Has now overcome injuries; ready.	Not flashy, but capable	8-1
8-Pat Johnson USA	22	5'7 3/4	13.3	130	PanAm Chmp; US Chmp 71; 4OG68;	In tough here with very little international competition to sharpen her up.	10-1

Synopsis:-Fantastic is the word for this event in these Olympic Games. The quality and the quantity of women's high jumping has improved dramatically since the 68 Games and in recent years the high jump competition in the big European meets has been the highlight of the entire meeting. The new world outdoor record-holder, Ilona Gusenbauer, will tangle with the new world indoor record-holder, Rita Schmidt. And while the 68 Games were won at 5'11½/1.815 there are at least 15 here today who have been over the magic 6'0 mark. Defending champion Milena Rezkova-Hubnerova, the surprise winner at Mexico, is will tough to beat in spite of her size - she is only 5'6½ - and there are simply too many others to talk about. Suffice it to say, this will be a good one!

Name & Country	Age	Height Best	Weight	Background	Remarks	Odds
1-Ilona Gusenbauer Austria	24	5'10½	1.92	WR; EurChmp71; 8OG68. Most consistent jumper; very strong	Always a good performance	2-1
2-Rita Schmidt GDR	21	5'8½	1.89	IndoorWR; 4EC71; 5OG68; EurIndChmp; Disappointed at Mexico, now older.	Will make this a fantastic duel.	2-1
3-Milena Rezkova-Hubnerova Czechoslovakia	22	5'6½	1.85	OlyChmp68; 5EC71; great technique and toughness. Rises to occasion.	Can't beat top ones this time.	5-1
4-Antonina Okorokova-Lazaryeva USSR	31	5'11½	1.88	2OG68; 15EC71; That tells story - inconsistent, but might be "up".	Experienced veteran ready for last effort.	5-1
5-Cornelia Popescu Rumania	22	5'10	1.87	2tEC71; Very consistent as high jumpers go.	Might make top ones hustle	8-1
6-Snezana Hrepevnik Yugoslavia	23	6'0	1.86	14OG68; 8EC71; great potential but doesn't win big contests.	Beating top ones would surprise all.	10-1
7-Barbara Inkpen Great Britain	22	5'11½	1.85	13OG68; 2tEC71; Switched to flop for EC; Needs confidence.	Might be up or down - hard to predict her performance.	12-1

Qualifying - Thursday, August 31 @ 1000
Final- Thursday, August 31 @ 1530

Synopsis:-This should be another exciting field event with many individuals capable of winning the title. And there should be some terrific jumping - best the world has ever seen. The defending champion, Viorico Viscopoleanu of Rumania, is working hard in an effort to retain her surprise title of Mexico and at age 33 is jumping extremely well. The new world record holder, Heide Rosendahl, is, of course, a distinct threat as she is not only talented but is very consistent. Yet Rosendahl only finished third in the European Championships being defeated by teammate Ingrid Mickler, the 1968 Olympic pentathlon champion, and Switzerland's Meta Antenen, who led the competition from the first jump until the very last effort of the meet. Others who can not be counted out include Irena Szewinska, second in the 1964 Olympics and who did not qualify at Mexico; 1968 runner-up Sheila Sherwood, GDR's Margrit Herbst who jumped 22'4¼ in a pentathlon and several others. All in all, this should be great competition.

Qualifying - Monday, September 4 @ 1030
Final - Wednesday, September 6 @ 1630

Synopsis:-Of all the events in a meet, the shot put is the most predictable - or is it? What happened in 1968 when everyone of the 'experts' awarded the title to Chizhova before a shot had been put. And she wound up third. This time she is back and once again looks unbeatable. Only one person is capable of upsetting this individual - the defending Olympic champion, Margitta Gummel. Chizhova's difficulty is she is so far ahead of everyone in the world that she has taken away some of the glamour of the event. The fight for the bronze should be good and close with many capable of being hot on the day and grabbing the metal.

Synopsis:-An unpredictable event at best, the calibre of the contestants in this year's Olympic Games makes this an even more difficult event to prognose. Favorite in 1968 was GFR's Leisel Westermann, the world record-holder at that time, but the event was held in the rain and all sorts of things happened. Westermann ended up with the silver. Since that time, the world record has moved around and the quality of throwers has improved to such an extent that unless you plan to throw over 200 feet, chances are you will not make the final in 1972. Leading contenders include Frau Westermann once again along with the defending champion Lia Manoliu, Rumania, who will be taking part in her SIXTH Olympiad at age 40 - and is throwing better than ever; Faina Myelnik of the Soviet Union who set a world mark in 1971; the latest Rumanian sensation Argentina Menis; and 1970 leader Karin Illgen. The entry list is full of top flight discus talent - and don't forget the 1956 Olympic Games champion Olga Connolly - who is also having her best year ever.

Synopsis:--Just like the discus, the javelin is an unpredictable event - always. The defending champion returns, but is not picked to repeat her triumph. Instead, the most steady javelin thrower, Poland's Danuta Jaworska is chosen by most as the winner. But we are playing a hunch and are picking Austria's Eva Janko to take home all the marbles. Janko has been plagued by injuries the past two seasons, but has exhibited tremendous potential and if she is healthy will be hard to beat. Petra Rivers, one of the few women to throw beyond the 200 foot mark, was not selected by her Olympic Committee as she was out of the country when the trials were held, and so the Games loses out on this talent. Ewa Gryziecka, another Pole, comes up ever so often with a tremendous throw and we think she will do it here. Kathy Schmidt, USA's 18 year old who has been out with injuries for two solid years, is coming back slowly and if her improvement and her health continue until September, she just might surprise everyone - except WTFW - with an excellent throw.

Synopsis:-The pentathlon has a new event since the 1968 Games - the 100m hurdles has replaced the 80m hurdles; the pentathlon has a new scoring system since the 1968 Games which makes it virtually impossible to compare scores - as well as being very confusing; but the pentathlon also has the greatest collection of talent in its history which makes this competition rate as one of the closest and finest of the 1972 Games. The favorite in Mexico was GFR's Heide Rosendahl - but Heide pulled a muscle warming up for the first event and had to miss. But no worry, her teammate, Ingrid Becker-Mickler won. Both these athletes return for Munich. Second in 1968 was Austria's Liese Prokop - and Liese has returned to the track wars after two babies and a lot of hard work. In the meantime, the GDR has come up with young Burglinde Pollak who has been alternating with Rosendahl as world record-holder. Rosendahl edged Pollak at the European Championships by winning the final event, the 200m - but just barely. The young blonde from Switzerland, Meta Antenen, could be a major factor here. Mary Peters of Great Britain has set a new Commonwealth record in the pentathlon - at age 33. GDR also has a real 'sleeper' in Margrit Herbst who has yet to put everything together in a single pentathlon competition and Canada has come up with a veritable youngster, 18 year old Debbie Van Kiekebelt, the Pan Am Games champion, who could do most anything she puts her mind to. Valentina Tikhomirova, the 31 year old Soviet ace, is still a threat. It should be a fantastic and tough competition. (Some scores below are old scale and marked with +).

4x100 RELAY

Qualifying - Friday, Sept. 8 @ 1100
 Semi Finals - Friday, Sept. 8 @ 1710
 Final - Saturday, Sept. 9 @ 1555

World and Olympic Record:-
 :42.8 by USA 1968.

1968 Results: 1-USA 42.8, 2-Cuba 43.2, 3-Soviet Union 43.4, 4-Holland 43.4, 5-Australia 43.4, 6-GFR 43.6, 7-England 43.7, 8-France 44.2.

WTFW Staff Predictions, January 1972: 1-West Germany, 2-USA, 3-East Germany, 4-Australia, 5-Soviet Union and Poland (tie), 7-Cuba, 8-Holland.

Synopsis:-Defending champion, USA will be hard pressed to retain this title for two very good reasons. First of all, the US does not have the depth of sprinters she had in 1968. And secondly, the four who do make the squad simply will not have enough time to prepare and to practice and work together. The two German squads are already hard at it and have been for more than a year. Szewinska will not run on the Polish relay team although she is the fastest woman in their land simply because she says she can not train under a sprint coach and a long jump coach and still have time to prepare for the relay. How different from the Land of Plenty, the USA. Both Germany's will be tough to beat - in fact, almost impossible to beat. The other European countries, while not having the blazing speed of the Americas, do have unity and practice and practice and practice. And that's the story of the 4x100.

Country	Best Mark	Background	Remarks	Odds
1-GFR	43.3	European Champs; Fantastic selection of sprinters; 6OG68.	Ability and technique will win this one.	2-1
2-GDR	43.6	2 Eur Chmps 71	Capable of upsetting top one.	3-1
3-USA	44.5	Pan Am Games Champs; Olym Chmps 1968	Could win it all if able to work together.	5-1
4-USSR	44.5	3rd Eur Chmps 71; 3rd Olym Games 68.	Great teamwork compensates for less talent.	6-1
5-Great Britain	44.9	6th Eur Chmps 71; 7th Olympic Games 68.	Will be tough in Olympic year.	8-1
6-Poland	44.8	4th Eur Chmps 71; Dropped baton 68 OlyGms heat.	Even with Szewinska they will make final.	10-1
7-Hungary	44.8	5th Eur Chmps 71	Not enough speed here	15-1
8-France	45.5	7th Eur Chmps 71; 8OG68	Should improve over 71	15-1

OTHER LEADING CONTENDERS

Australia	x	Depends on selection of team and their condition in September.	Best combination and effort could score; 5OG68.	8-1
Holland	x	4th Oly Gms 68; Dutch sprinters down a little from 68 team.	van Gool and sister might pull them through.	15-1
Cuba	45.0	2nd Pan Am Gms; 2nd Olym Gms 68	Loss of good sprinters makes placing improbable.	20-1
Canada	x	Poor background for this event	Not enough speed here	30-1
Sweden	46.1	8th Eur Chmps 71	Fills out the lanes	30-1

4x400

World Record:-3:29.3 by East Germany 1971.

Olympic Record:-None. New event.

WTFW Staff Predictions, January 1972: 1-East Germany, 2-USA, 3-West Germany, 4-France, 5-Great Britain, 6-Jamaica, 7-Soviet Union, 8-Cuba.

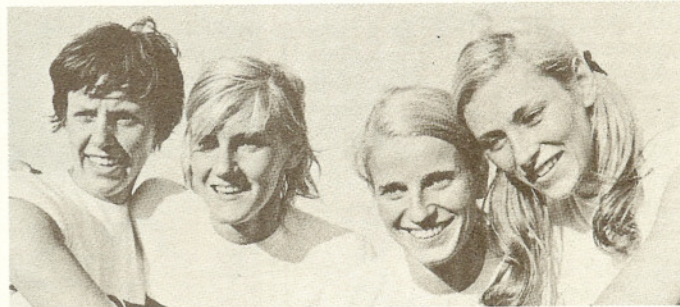

Qualifying - Friday, Sept. 8 @ 1510
Final - Saturday, Sept. 9 @ 1625

Synopsis:-Another new event being held for the first time in these Games. And what a beautiful way to wind up the 1972 Olympics! This will be a sensational competition with times unbelievable to those not acquainted with the capabilities of women performers. The GDR team was under 3:30 last year - and that with one poor leg. The Australians believe they will win it all in a big surprise. The GFR squad has fantastic balance. And of course the British are always tough when the chips are down and they will be flying. The Swedes have spent the 1972 outdoor season training and conditioning in southern California, and they will be ready to run their best ever. Cuba has at least two good top notch runners and just might challenge. Jamaica, before Neufville's injury, was a distinct threat and the USA isn't so bad here either. Get a good seat and take a few "calming" pills and watch this fine finish to the 1972 Olympics. You'll see a world record in this one!

Country	Best Mark	Background	Remarks	Odds
1-GDR	3:29.3	Eur Chmp 71; World record and now better than ever!	Stick with the champ. Who's there to beat them?	2-1
2-GFR	3:33.0	All GFR 400 runners have improved; 2EurChmp 71.	Will make top one hustle	3-1
3-Australia	3:33.4	That's a CLUB time, not their best four; watch out!	If ready, could take it all	3-1
4-France	x	If Duclos is back to form, the French will be hard to beat.	Besson makes them awfully good.	5-1
5-USSR	3:34.1	3rd Eur Chmp 71; once again good teamwork is valuable.	Could move up but hard to grab medal in this company.	5-1
6-USA	x	Must find speedster to go with Hammond and Manning.	In for a surprise against rough, fast foreigners.	8-1
7-Great Britain	3:34.5	4th Eur Chmps 71	Capable of beating some of the top ones - not all.	8-1
8-Sweden	3:37.1	6th Eur Chmps; have trained well for this race.	California sunshine gets assist here.	10-1
OTHER LEADING CONTENDERS
Poland	3:35.3	5th Eur Chmps; what a secret weapon if Szewinska would anchor!	Good, steady team could challenge for 5th.	12-1
Finland	3:37.2	7th Eur Chmps 71	Not enough depth for top team.	15-1
Cuba	x	Should come up with better than average team.	Need more racing	20-1
Jamaica	x	Loss of Neufville drops team from medal contender.	Helps fill the lanes without wr holder.	20-1

THE ALL TIME GREATEST - FROM WTFW 1971 YEARBOOK

As we prepare for the 1972 Olympic Games, Pete Pozzoli has prepared a listing of the greatest performers of all time by taking the top ten performances of each individual and dividing to obtain the athletes with the best average performance. What changes will be made in this list after the Olympic Games of 1972? (Lists are complete in Yearbook, but for this table we use only the final average of each performer.)

THE GREATEST OF ALL TIME? Although her records have been long erased from the books, readers of the English magazine "Athletics Weekly" recently voted Fanny Blankers-Koen as the greatest of all time. She is now the coach of the Dutch team.

How has women's athletics improved? We give you just one statistic: Wilma Rudolph's winning time for the 200m at Rome would not qualify her to enter the 1972 Olympics. Now THAT'S improvement of the species.
