

Injured Jim Marshall Out of District 220

The 11th annual Sequoia High School District Track and Field Championships may be remembered more for who wasn't there than for who was.

John Lilly of San Carlos, District and County record holder in the half-mile, already has been ruled out of Friday night's Big One because of mononucleosis.

In Tuesday's trials at Terremere Field, County 100-yard dash record-holder James Marshall of Ravenswood scratched from the 220 because of a bothersome muscle bruise.

Marshall hobbled through the 100 in 10.5, fourth fastest time of the day and slowest of his career, but coach Buddy Mitchell said Marshall will not scratch from the 100 or the relay Friday.

Also among the missing Friday night will be Woodside's two fine high jumpers, Andy Taylor and Colin Macy, who both passed the opening height of 5-8 and failed to clear 5-10; Carlmont's 12-foot pole vaulter Joe White and the Scot's best discus thrower, Bill Peterson.

Despite those losses, Carlmont qualified enough people to make an eighth straight District Championship seem inevitable. "With Lilly and Marshall out, Carlmont will double the score of the second place team," commented on observer.

With few exceptions, marks in the trials were without luster.

Most notable exception was a 161-1 discus throw by Steve Simon of Ravenswood. Simon, a senior competing in track for the first year, has improved 15 feet in his last three meets.

Ben Welch of Woodside, one of Northern California's ranking discus throwers this spring (165-3) is second to Simon at 158-5. Welch took a surprise lead over teammate Jeff Dunker in the shot put at 53-0 $\frac{3}{4}$, a personal best.

Discus, shot and long jump qualifiers will each get three more tries Friday night to better their marks of the Trials.

Rick Brandenburg of San Carlos, running the 440 for the second time in competition, was timed in 51.3 while Woodside's Fred Storek replaced Marshall as favorite in the sprints with clockings of 10.2 and 23.0.

High jump record holder John Radetich of San Carlos jumped 5-10 to qualify and then quit for the day.

No trials were held in the 880, p.m., a couple of hours earlier than in previous years.

SPAL class B season bests of 134-2 in the discus and 47-10 $\frac{1}{4}$ in the shot were logged by Sequoia freshman Barr Curry. Woodside soph Chan Warden, who ran varsity in dual meets, moved to C's for the District and posted SPAL seasonal bests of 53.4 in the 440 and 23.8 in the 220.

Field events will start at 7:30 and track events at 8 p.m. Friday night at Terremere.
