STANFORD STADIUM, PALO ALTO, May 8.—Manual Arts High School of Los Angeles won the track and field championship of the Interscholastic Federation here this afternoon for the second successive year.

Sixty-three high schools, representing every section of the State, were entered, and so closely did they contest that 16 points were sufficient to win the meet for Manual Arts. San Diego, which had led until the relay race, the closing event, finished second with 14½ points. Hollywood was third with 12. Lincoln High of Los Angeles and Inglewood High tied for fourth with eight. El Monte was sixth with seven. Riverside seventh with six. These Southern California institutions kept on top of the scoring throughout. Of the northern schools, Concord and Menlo Park led with scores of 5 each, but they had to share the standing with four schools in the south—Fullerton, Los Angeles Polytechnic, Santa Maria and Santa Monica.

BETTER RECORD

The brilliant four-man half-mile relay team of Manual Arts, besides winning the title with the event, bettered the world's interscholastic record by one-tenth of a second. The Los Angeles boys made it in 1m. 29 5-10s. The team in the order it ran, consisted of Borgfeldt, Maurer, Mason and Hanford. This anchor man, Hanford, who nailed down the record, was an outstanding performer of the meet. He won the 100-yard run in 10 1-10s., and placed second in the quarter-mile run.

Bowen of Santa Monica broke the California Interscholastic record in the high jump. After winning the event at 5ft. 10½in., he raised the bar and cleared 6ft. 1½ in., bettering the record by a quarter of an inch.

In the javelin throw, rated as an exhibition event, and not counted in the scoring Olsen of Concord, shattered the federation record of 164ft. 3in., hurling the spear 171ft. 1 3-4in.

Fleishacker of Menlo Park won the regular shot-put event, throwing the twelve-pound ball 49ft. 2in. He also won the special sixteen-pound shot put for the Drew Trophy, pushing the senior weight 41ft. 1-2in.

EXCITING DUEL

In the pole vault an exciting duel was won by Williams, Inglewood, over Hulsman of San Jose. Williams leaped 12ft. 9 5-8in. Hulsman made 12ft. 6in.

Manual Arts took first places in the century race and the relay and seconds in the 440 and shot put.

The meet was held under a severe handicap of weather. Drenching rains fell periodically during the afternoon and a chill wind swept the field. Despite this, excellent time was recorded in several of the races, which, given a fair day, probably would have produced more records.

TRACK

The Paly High Track Team of 1925 has set a record of which every loyal supporter of the Red and Green is justly proud. All dual meets in which our tracksters participated were won by impressive scores. Although Paly won neither the P. A. L. or N. C. S. she had one of the best dual track teams in her history, for each event was well represented. The team consisted of no individual stars but a group of athletes who would have given any prep school in the state the stiffest kind of competition.

Every man on the squad worked hard and although a few were not fortunate enough to make their letters in our two big meets, it was the effort of the entire squad that contributed to a successful track season. Coach Stewart deserves any amount of credit for building up a team which was practically composed of untried material. This year constitutes his first handling of Paly's unlimited track team and we will all agree that he made a success of it. It is hoped that he will continue as track mentor and put out teams in the future that will compare with his first.

Interclass track, in which the juniors were victorious, started off the practice season of the Paly squad and did much in the uncovering of first string men.

On March 21st, the first practice meet of the season was held with Santa Cruz at the old Stanford oval. Paly scored an overwhelming victory and avenged herself for the defeat she suffered at the hands of the Sea Siders in 1924.

The following week the P. A. L.-Stanford freshmen meet was run off in the stadium. The frosh scored their usual victory over the combined efforts of the peninsula high schools. Counting out Disbrow of San Jose, who was ineligible for the P. A. L. and N. C. S. meets, and who scored several of San Jose's points, Paly would have placed second to the frosh by a margin of half a point. Probably the outstanding event of the day from our viewpoint was the 880, which was won by Captain "Hank" Lawshe in fast time. Dixon accounted for five points when he took the javelin event. Wilson, Baker, Sonnickson, and the members of the relay team were the only other Paly men who succeeded in placing.

The next meet of the practice season was held with Menlo. Our boys again showed their superiority as a dual track team by nosing out the highly touted Menlo squad. A meet was scheduled with Mission but was called off on account of rain, so Coach Stewart had to announce the twelve-man team which was to enter the P. A. L. without the help the meet with Mission would have given him. Those who made the team were Captain "Hank" Lawshe, Warner Wilson, Harry Baker, Hector Dixon, Fred Stanton, "Nellie" Smith, Joe Borden, Jack Adams, "Toby" McLachlan, Joe Bush, "Kenny" Christiansen, and Bob Clunie. The three others picked for the relay were Cublucq, C. Smith and Brett.

track meet held on the Stanford Stadium oval two weeks after the N. C. S. They were Wilson and Baker. Wilson elected to go after the 220-yard title, in which he placed a good fifth. Baker, competing against such stars as Hulsman and Williams, was forced to drop out before the 12-foot mark was reached, although he tried his level best to keep up with the winners. It is a shame that Paly could not have taken even a fraction of a point when the meet was held within 200 yards of the school.

TENNIS TEAM

Tennis at Paly High, although not a recognized sport, is fast growing in favor as a time passer. Never before have so many candidates turned out for the net game and it looks as if the future is to be exceedingly bright. Perhaps some new Tilden will be turned out under our very noses in a few years. With so much competition on hand there is no telling what might happen. As this book goes to press, the team has only seen action in two matches, one with San Mateo and one with San Jose. The Red and Green racquet wielders managed to down the Orange and Black, but lost to the Garden City aggregation May 2. The team is composed of Herbert Nyquist, Sergius Klotz, Harry Plymire, John Cassel, and Charles West, who captains the bunch.

SOCCER

The soccer team, even with its small support from the student body, was able to play a better brand of ball than ever before. Captain Reynolds was tireless in his efforts to inspire enthusiasm among his teammates, and his spirit was reflected throughout the whole squad.

After only three days of practice the season was formally opened with a game with San Mateo, which the Red and Green soccerites lost by a 3 to 0 score, due largely to the fact that the Paly aggregation had had very little practice and were still inexperienced in the ways of the bounding ball. The following Saturday, boosted up by a stiff week of hard scrimmage, the team tackled the powerful San Jose outfit, holding them to a scoreless tie. All chances for a championship went glimmering when the Half Moon Bay wonders rode the Embarcadero stars into the ditch with a 3 to 0 score.

Because of the poor support given the soccer team of last season, that sport has been discontinued as far as the league is concerned.

LIGHTWEIGHT BASKETBALL

Although Coach George Stewart's 110-pound team did not fare so well in the league this year, they succeeded in laying the foundation for a prospective championship for the following season and promise to send a good portion to the 120's. The 120's had a fairly successful season although they did not win the majority of games played. After losing their first two tilts the Paly lightweights came back fighting, annexing the next two games in a row.
