

Lowell Eyes Relay Mark

When the fourth annual Burlingame Prep Relays are run off Saturday, much attention will be given Lowell High's crack mile relay team.

Anchored by Don Carlson, Lowell's giant all-around athlete, the Indian relayers are rated a sure-fire bet to break the 3:31.5 Relays mark set by Washington High of San Francisco.

Competing in the relay meet will be Lowell, Poly, Commerce, Washington and Galileo, all of San Francisco, and all of the Peninsula Athletic League schools. First event will be off at 2:30 p. m.
