Eagles Rally Behind Brown, Moss and Miller

By DARRELL WILSON Washington High School had the greatest athletic day in its 12-year history yesterday at Kezar Stadium as the Eagles' track and field teams swept all three divisions in the City

Meet championships. The varsity, sparked by Lionel Brown's sizzling comeback victory in the 100, Cole Moss' surprise second in the high hurdles and Dick Mil-ler's second-place upset in the broad in the high hurdles and Dick Mil-ler's second-place upset in the broad jump, fought off Lowell's challenge, 44 to 41½. The triumph ended the Indians' four-year string as varsity champs. Balboa was a surprise third with 22½ points. The 130's, rünning without the services of star sprinter Walt Mit-chell, to whom the victory was dedi-cated, breezed through with 40 points, 18½ more than second-place Poly. The Eagle 120's survived a tight race, edging Lincoln, 20 to 17½. Director of Athletics Saul Madfes, who has been at Washington for all but three years of its existence, said the triumphs climaxed not only the Eagles' best day, but wound up the best season as well. Washington won three basketball titles (one was a tie), took the soccer champion-ship, was second in cross country, third in varsity football, third in varsity basketball and swept the track clean. TRIUMPH FOR VASQUEZ It was a stunning triumph for

TRIUMPH FOR VASQUEZ

It was a stunning triumph for young Lou Vasquez, coach of the young Lou Vasquez, coach of the Eagles, and Bill Magner, the assist-ant pilot, who gave up his days off to help drag a plowed field so the boys could practice. The near-hys-terical Eagles, who came from be-hind yesterday after losing the round robin title to Lowell, carried both coaches off the field. And hysterical is the word for the Eagles Big Ron Bauer, who runs the mile like a man grown, was a 'little boy again as he jumped up and down, flapping his arms and squealing in-articulately. Actually, Vasquez rates a strong assist. He robbed Peter (his own 130's team) of Miller to beat Paul (the Lowell varsity). It seemed for a time that Lou would lose both divisions for his trouble but Dick Miller made sure of the varsity with his long leap. Ironically, it was another Miller, brother Bob, who helped turn the 30's division. Bob, who never figured to be up there, rocketed from his sixth place in the trials to take the broad jump with 20 feet 4 inches. The wind, averaging more than eight miles per hour, chilled the Eagles, and Bill Magner, the assist-

The wind, averaging more than eight miles per hour, chilled the performers, times and distances. A DOUBLE WINNER

A DOUBLE WINNER Lowell battled it all down the line, and the Washington victory was brought out by Eagle inspir-ation rather than the Indians' failure.

Gritty Fred George was a double winner for the Indians, turning a rapid :22.5 in the furlong and cut-ting a second and a half off his previous best to take the 440 in :50.8. Big Don (series was second in the Big Don Gerlson was second in the 440, took the discus and placed fourth in the shot. Bud Peterson ran fourth in the shot. Bud Peterson ran a good second in the low hurdles and Pole Vaulter Bob Foehr sored 11 feet 9 inches—9 inches better than his previous best—in a deter-mined effort to stop Balboa's Ward Wilson. Wilson went on, however, to win the event at 12-6, one of the best eity walk marks in many a best city vault marks in many a year.

The meet actually was turned in The meet actually was turned in the very first event, when Moss, running the best high hurdles race of his life, slipped by Balboa's Kenn Foss for a very close second. Moss had never beaten Foss and never figured to, but he did it when it counted most. Lowell's John Mumma mached the first hurdle but battled smashed the first hurdle but battled back up for a fourth

VINDICATION IS SWEET --- Washington's Lionel Brown (nearest camera), mighty discouraged boy when he failed to qualify for the 220 and was rated only fourth in the 100, boomed back to take it all in a sizzling 100 finish of the prep championships yesterday. Reading, from Never before had the Richmond district school won the AAA varsity track title. With Coleman Moss starting an atom-like chain reaction by virtue of his unexpected second place in the very first track event of the program, the high hurdles, the spired Eagles produced come-inspired Eagles produced c o me-through performances all after-noon to score 44 points and win the varsity crown that Lowell had held for four long years. The I n d i a n s collected 41½ points and weren't out of it until Washington, still pulling sur-prises out of the hat, flashed to a ten yard victory over the startled Indians in the 1,320 yard relay. No one else was in the team title battle. Balboa took third with 22½ points. EAGLE 130'S BREEZE.

EAGLE 130's BREEZE.

Eagle 130's from breezing to their divisional crown as they annexed five of nine first places and ama sed 40 points to 21½ for second place Poly. Paced by tiny James Morris, who accounted for the meet's only new record by high jumping 5 feet 10½ inches, the Washing-ton 120's grabbed three of six firsts in that division and scored 20 points to beat Mission by 21% 20 points to beat Mission by $2\frac{1}{2}$ markers. Mission and Commerce yere right behind with 17 points apiece.

What Moss started in for Washington's varsity, boys like Lionel Brown, Dick Miller and the entire relay team continued as they picked up vital points where few dreamed they would. BROWN SURPRISES.

Brown, for instance, failed to qualify in the 220 and wasn't counted on for too much in the 100, but he won the race, nosing out Lincoin's Bob Springer, with Eagle Al Jones sneaking in for an unlooked for fourth. Miller, elevated from the 130's for the meet, broad jumped 21-81/2, one of the heat house of his severe to meet, broad jumped 21-8/2, one of the best leaps of his career, to tatison's 21-11/2. And, finally, the relay sexut, defeated only a meek ago by lowell, zipped the three-quarters of a mile in 2:20.5, the best time of the AAA season three seconds to thwart Lowalls' last hope.

TLAY DECIDES.

The Indians trailed by only a bint and a half going into the ent but had to shunt Washingto third or worse to retain ir throne. The Eagles settled t issue in a hurry as Brown, rry Wells, Bob Lualhati and ry Wells, Bob Lualhati and n Bauer opened up a twenty rd lead, too much for Lowell's ying Don Carlson and Fred keen taking second in the discus. As usual, George and Carlson carried Lowell's burden, with the indefatigable George posting two of the day's best times in surging to victory in the 220 in :22.5 and 440 in :50.8. Carlson captured the discus, ran second in the 440 but was forced down to fourth in the shot, which Louis Rubcic of Mission took with the best toss of his life, 50-2½. Jimmy Van Zant of Balboa re-peated as 880 champion and came up with his best clocking, 2:01.5. Another classy performance was the 12-6 pole vault by Balboa's Ward Wilson.

Moss' surprise appeared to inspire the Eagles all down the line. And then Lionel Brown, the early-season race horse who climaxed a late season run of bad luck by failing to qualify in the 220, won as close a hundred as we've ever seen.

Big Vern Chambers, a Washington mainstay, took both hurdles, as expected. Dick Miller got off one of his best jumps—21 feet 8½ inches— Bauer breezed through a sizzling 4:31.4 mile, and then the Washington relay team outraced Lowell by ten yards in the 1320 event. SIZZLING RELAY

The Eagles needed only a second behind Lowell to take the varsity meet, but Coach Lou Vasquez told his boys they needed a first in that relay. Since none of them had paper and pencils to figure it out, they took Lou at his word and the crew of Brown, Larry Wells, Bob Lualhati, Bauer, Chambers and Al Jones ran a sizzling 2:20.5.

Every man jack expended his top effort. Bauer, who has yet to run himself out in the mile, dug in down the stretch and then kicked it just once more. He admitted he saw spots dance before his eyes after the pass-off. He took over a 15yard margin and added five more. Lowell's Carlson took a five-yard chunk off Chambers and George got five more off Jones, but it was not enough.

Mission's Lou Rubcic got off the best throw of his career to take the shot at 50 feet 2 inches. Balboa's Jim Van Zant ran a 2:01.5 880, just nine-tenth off Grove Klemmer's record.

Washington took home practically all of the hardware, including a trophy for scoring the most points over-all. That one was a breeze for Vasquez' talented crew, as it collected 104 points to second-place Lowell's 65.
