

There is hardly an event in which either a record is not threatened or a keen battle for supremacy isn't in store.

Poly's Herb Blanchard will be shooting for his third straight All City double—the 100 and 200 titles—and Lewis is defending in both the shot and discus. St. Ignatius' Steve Barrett and Balboa's Claude Cooper are expected to have their hands full defending their 880 and low hurdles championships, respectively.

Washington coach Bill Magner, who had hoped that sprinter Lefty Gordon would be recovered from his muscle pull in order to aid the Eagle cause in the 100- and 880-yard relay, said he would not be able to tell whether Gordon can run til today. The leg was still giving Lefty trouble yesterday.

Our dope sheet, based on the assumption that Gordon doesn't run, has Poly a slim victor over Washington and Lincoln close behind.

had the Parrots triumphing with 53 points.

It's quite likely that Washington, which is mentored by Bill Wagner, would have prevailed had its top sprinter, Len "Flash" Gordon, competed.

He was sidelined with the pulled muscle incurred in last week's 220 semifinals. Len missed last year's finals for the same type injury. The Eagle star had qualified for the century and was scheduled for relay work.

4 Records Fall; Poly Nabs Title

By SYD RUSSELL

The preps outdid themselves in yesterday's all-city track and field meet at Kezar Stadium.

Poly won the varsity championship for the third consecutive year, but not before the following league records were set:

1. 880-yard run—Paul Patton (Poly), 1:59.1.
2. Mile run—Bill Morgan (Lowell), 4:28.6.
3. High jump—Ed Costa (Lincoln), 6 feet, 5 inches.
4. Discus throw—Mike Lewis (Lincoln), 152 feet, 7 inches.

Actually this season's crop of harriers produced what is believed to be an unprecedented high of seven new marks as three others were set in last week's trials.

These were established by Lewis (60-9½ shot put), Lowell's Tim Curtis (49.1 quarter mile) and Washington's Mac Burton (24-7¼ broad jump).

Teamwise, the 4,500 fans who turned out for the show couldn't have asked for more. Steve Ebert's Poly crew, which was a slight favorite, scored 53½ points, only 2 and ½ more than runnerup Washington. Then came Lincoln with 41; Balboa, 19½; Lowell, 16½; St. Ignatius 8. Galileo.

City Record Holders in 440 Meet

By Bob Hughes

Lowell's Tim Curtis, the city's new 440 record holder, met one of the former holders — Grover Klemmer — last week.

"I never thought I'd meet a great champion like him," the Indian junior said.

Klemmer, former world record holder in the quarter mile, set the city mark of :49.2 while at Galileo in 1939. Carlos Tan, now a freshman at Georgetown, tied that time last year for St. Ignatius and Curtis came through with :41.1 in last Wednesday's trials.

Said Klemmer, City College of San Francisco football coach:

"I got more of a thrill setting that (city) record than any other. It was my first real achievement in athletics."

Mike Lewis's shot put record of 60-9<sup>5</sup>/<sub>8</sub>, set in the trials, also broke a 1939 mark—this by Jim Delaney of Sacred Heart. Delaney, at one time an instructor at St. Ignatius and now with an oil company in the East, was second in the 1948 Olympic Games.

Lewis of Lincoln also is expected to break the discus record of 149-3. His best throw in the trials was 147-2<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> but he will have three more chances in the finals to match his best of 160-0<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>.

NO FOUL QUESTION

His coach, Jim Wyatt, said he was optimistic about obtaining official recognition of either of two throws (159-6 and 159-1) last month as a national record. The throws were made at the Martinez Relays without the benefit of an official metal ring, although there was no question of a foul.

Bill Russell, secretary of the California Interscholastic Federation, called for the necessary papers to be drawn up and submitted.

"That means the CIF is behind us," Wyatt said, "and I think we'll be successful."

The third varsity record to fall in the trials was Jim Plessas' 23-10 in the broad jump, made in 1949. Washington's Mac Burton left no doubt about taking over when he leaped 24-7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>.

STUDY OF FILMS

Burton's big leap was the result of overcoming a slump during which he fouled quite often and seldom hit 22 feet. He attributed this comeback to his studies of slow motion films, taken by his coach, Bill Magner.

"I found I was hitting the board wrong and bringing up the wrong arm, which meant that I came down off balance. Those films were a big help."

shot put and Lowell's Tim Curtis (:49.1 quartermile) are the newest record holders. Lowell miler Bill Morgan is a strong record prospect as are Poly's Jackie Tillman and Lincoln's Ed Costa in the high jump. Same with Lewis in the discus.

Our handicap has Poly winning by two points over Washington, 52-50, with Lincoln third at 41. With Lefty Gordon, who pulled up in the 220 trial yesterday with a leg cramp, somehow able to go for Washington in the 100 today the dope sheet would have Poly and Washington tied.

23-6½ last Saturday at Fresno, though he fouled a 24-5 there. He jumped 22-6½, 23-6½ and 23-2½ before his record breaker. His battle with Poly's Jackie Tillman was not close, Tillman hitting a best of 23.0.

Washington's James Stokes set a 120 division record of :14.2 in the 120-yard low hurdles while teammate James Austin, a 130-division competitor, won the 330-yard run in :36.5.

Curtis' :49.1 Cracks 18-Year-Old Record

Lowell's Tim Curtis ran the quarter in :49.1 yesterday to smash a San Francisco prep record which was first set by Grover Klammer 18 years ago.

The Lowell junior established the mark in a qualifying heat as varsity track and lightweight field trials opened at Kezar Stadium for Saturday's All-City meet.

Klemmer, who later set a world 440 record at California, ran the distance in :49.2 in 1939. The mark was tied last year by Carlos Tan of St. Ignatius.

Poly's defending champs, who tied with Washington for the round robin title when the crucial meet between the two schools was rained out, got eight places in Saturday's finals. The Eagles, who were blanked in the mile, had five.

But Washington landed 15 men in Friday's semifinals as against seven for Poly.

Poly's Ervin Ray pole-vaulted 11-7 to crack the old 130's division mark of 11-6 $\frac{1}{4}$ , set by Tom Colton of St. Ignatius.

Lewis, Burton Set AAA Track Marks

By Bob Hughes

San Francisco's finest track and field crop in history obliterated two more varsity records yesterday at Kezar in the second day of trials for Saturday's All-City meet.

Mike Lewis of Lincoln put the 12-pound shot 60 feet, 9 $\frac{5}{8}$  inches and Mac Burton of Washington broad jumped 24 feet, 7 $\frac{1}{4}$  inches to surpass records set in 1939 and 1949, respectively.

On Wednesday, Lowell's Tim Curtis cracked the 440-yard-run mark that had stood since 1939 with a :49.1 clocking.

Though tomorrow is the big day, undoubtedly other records will be threatened in today's semifinals in sprints and hurdles.

Burton's leap—his lifetime best—is second by one inch to all other California preps this season. The mark he erased was 23-10, set in 1949 by Lowell's Jim Plessas.

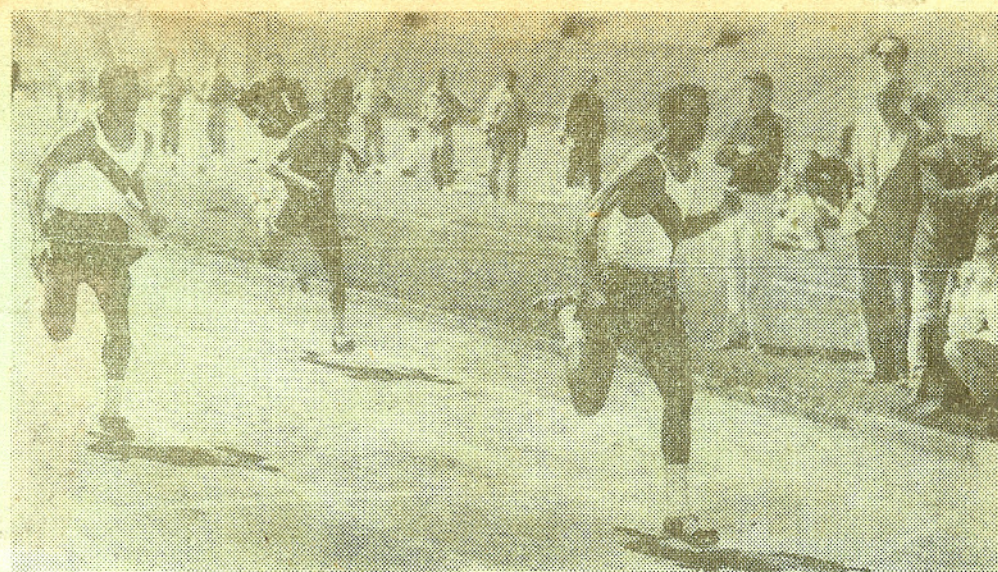

Lewis, who also leads the discus throwers at 147-2 $\frac{3}{4}$  entering the finals, broke the 58-4 $\frac{1}{2}$  mark set by Sacred Heart's Jim Delaney in 1939. Operating on a knee that bothers him because of a cyst, Lewis made all of his puts at 59 feet or better. He had trouble in the discus, however, fouling on his first two throws and going all out on only his last.

coln, 152 feet, 7 inches; old record of 149-3 set in 1943.

880-YARD RUN—Paul Patton, Poly, 1:59.1; old record of 1:59.3 set in 1951.

MILE—Bill Morgan, Lowell, 4:28.6; old record of 4:29.6 set in 1941.

HIGH JUMP—Ed Costa, Lincoln, 6-5; old record of 6-4½ set in 1956.

In trials for the All City, Lewis had set a new shotput record of 60-9½; Washington's Mac Burton hit 24-7¼ for a new broad jump mark, and Lowell's Tim Curtis lowered the 440 standard to :49.1.

All in all an impressive performance. But there was more in the lightweights, in addition to a raft of records based on the fact that many events were new to the city this year.

Perhaps the most impressive of genuine lightweight marks was the 6-1½ high jump by Washington's Lorrel Anderson in the 120 exponents—as small as they come. Lorrell was measured at five feet, four inches tall at season's start.

Lewis, the double record breaker, and Poly's Herb Blanchard, who captured the dashes, were defending champions. It was Herbie's third year to climb the victory stand in the 100 and 220.

Balboa's Claude Cooper successfully defended his low hurdles title in :19.7 but St. Ignatius' Steve Barrett, plagued by injury this year, was beaten by Patton in the 880 which he won last year.

The varsity battle went down to the high jump where Costa scored a mild upset over Poly's Jackie Tillman who cleared 6-4. But Tillman's points were enough to win the meet for Poly.

Washington, as usual, took both lightweight team titles.

had the Parrots triumphing with 53 points.

It's quite likely that Washington, which is mentored by Bill Wagner, would have prevailed had its top sprinter, Len "Flash" Gordon, competed.

He was sidelined with the pulled muscle incurred in last week's 220 semifinals. Len missed last year's finals for the same type injury. The Eagle star had qualified for the century and was scheduled for relay work.

Lefty Missed Meet, And So Poly Won

By Bob Hughes

"We wouldn't have done it if Lefty had run," Poly coach Steve Ebert told Washington's Bill Magner after the Parrots had defeated the Eagles, 53 1/5 to 50 3/5 in the All City track meet at Kezar Saturday.

Also strong factors in Washington's cause were LeRoy Shields, who placed second in the two weight events; Cal Murry and Mel Wilson.

Among Saturday's best races were the 880 and mile. Patton and defending champion Steve Barrett of St. Ignatius stayed together until the final 110 yards of the half mile. Coming off the turn, Patton stretched out to win by ten yards.

BREAK AWAY

"I understand Barrett was sick in the morning," Patton said, "but he's got a terrific kick and I wanted to break away from him as soon as I could."

Bill Morgan, one of Lowell's two record holders (Tim Curtis' :49.1 in the 440 was the other), ran another fine mile for 4:28.6. His quarters were 65.67, 70 and 66.6.

Kane set the pace for the first 660 yards but Morgan, who was running third through the first furlong, took over approaching the half mile mark. Loobey passed Kane about this time and Morgan began easing forward. He had six yards on Loobey midway in the third lap, ten entering the final lap and 18 at the finish.

Kane trailed Loobey by 12, Lincoln's Rich Byers by another 12 and Balboa's Karl Uebel was four yards further back.

But the best out-of-nowhere performance of the day was turned in by Balboa lightweight Charlie Lyons in the 1320 yard run. While Poly's Ayag and Lowell's Guggenheim tugged at one another during the final 440 well ahead of the pack, Lyons got on his bicycle. He pulled out to pass on the turn and was still pulling ahead at the finish, 12 yards ahead of Ayag.

Lefty Gordon, Washington sprinter who figured to place high in both the 220 and 100 and had been a mainstay on the 880 relay team that ran 1:29.1 in Fresno, pulled a muscle in the trials and did not recover in time.

Ebert, who led Poly to its third straight varsity championship, noted that Gordon, when healthy, has given three-time 100 and 220 champion Herb Blanchard stiff competition.

"He would have picked up enough points to beat us," Ebert said. "I wanted to win, but I'm sorry Lefty was hurt. He's a fine boy."

Ebert said he was pleased with all of his athletes.

"None of them let us down," he said. "They're a great bunch."

There were any number of Parrots who did their school proud, not the least of whom was Blanchard. Though he never got his name in the Academic Athletic Association record books, he ranks as one of the city's all-time great trackmen.

For three years he mounted the victory stand as champion in both the 100 and 220 for an unparalleled distinction of six first place medals. His fellow trackmen pay him their highest tribute — they call him a competitor.

But also helping the cause were 880 record holder Paul Patton; hurdler Jerry Bell, broad jumper - high jumper Jackie Tillman; sprinter Alex Jenkins, milers Andy Loobey and Bob Kane and several others.

COME THROUGH

That Washington was able to press Poly as hard as it did, without Gordon, was due in large measure to the come-through efforts of MacBurton and Bili Randle.

Burton, who set a new broad jump record at 24-7 1/4, surprised with thirds in the 100 and high jump and Randle took second in both hurdles.

"Randle was the most underrated trackman in the city," coach Magner said. "He came strong at the end of the season."

Randle, a senior, had beaten teammate Tom Skinner only once before this season but he prevailed over Skinner, favored in the low hurdles, in both All-City races.
