Upset Spartans

By BOB BRACHMAN
Staff Writer

A modern day San Jose State version of the "Charge of the Light Brigade" had the same untoward ending as the original yesterday when Cal's Golden Bears halted nine years of futile track and field dueling with the Spartans at Berkeley yesterday.

All hopped up to continue what they had been doing to the Bears since 1958, the Spartans came tearing into the arena four abreast in parade style, behind a huge school-insignia inscribed banner.

But there were no flags flying, except the Golden Bears', at the windup of a meet which saw Cal beat back the charge, 82-69, for its first triumph over the Peninsula rival since a 73½-45½ win in 1957.

A third party to the proceedings on the first halfway decent day of the heretofore wet spring, Washington State, was totally demolished, 101-44, in the Pac-8 duel with the Bears.

What such Blue and Golders as Lou Kirtman, Paddy McCrary, Bob Price, Ed White, Ron Miller, Ron Byers, Jerry Darr and a host of others were able to accomplish was far more than necessary to overcome the power of San Jose's international pair, Tommie Smith and Lee Evans.

Between them, Smith and Evans, produced five winners and were an important part of writing finis to Cal's 29-meet mile relay victory string.

LINDGREN DOUBLES

Likewise, Gerry Lindgren, Washington State's great little distance star, was able to double in the mile (4:08.2) and two miler (8:54.1) despite a still undiagnosed stomach ailment which has drained considerable of his stamina.

But the work of the name stars in the field was not what stood highest in this prestige clash.

That property was sole possession of the clawing Bears who went after everything that wasn't nailed down, some things that were and didn't miss a trick.

There could be no doubt that the foundation for the highest point yet in California's returning dignity in the sport under Sam Bell was the high hurdle race.

Spartan Rickey Rogers was the odds-on favorite, even though the race came while he was also working in the long jump pit.

However, when they burst through the tape, it was two Bears, San Francisco's Kirtman and Paddy McCrary, who were there first.

That shoved Cal into a 24-8 lead after four events and there was no stopping the now aroused Bears as they piled up enough points to cinch the duel after only thirteen of the seventeen competitions had been completed.

They doubled the Spartans' total, 42-21, on the field and stunningly earned a near draw in the foot races where they were outscored only 42-40.

WINTER MOANS

As coach Bud Winter of the Spartans so aptly described the downfall: "The day started out bad and just got worse."

The triangular aspect of the session was ruled out because hosting California officials were a little worried about the Pac-8 policy against non-conference competitive involvement.

But, even had the meet been scored on a three-way basis, Cal would have been a winner, too.

WSU Cougars did cut in some with Lindgren and high jump victor Keith Dalluge.

Spartans finished in front with Smith and Evans in the 100, 220, 440 and both relays, with Chris Papanicolaou who missed Bob Seagren's stadium record by 16-5 in the vault, by half an inch, and Dwight Tucker in the triple jump.

But Cal took all the remainder, including the majority of the important seconds and thirds and a one-two-three smear in the half mile.

RECORDS PASTED

The meet record books took a pasting.

Cal athletes knocked down eight antiquated standards in Washington State competition, the oldest of them by Kirtman, whose 14.3 seconds high barrier clocking surpassed the 14.5 by yesterday's meet starter, Tom Moore, in 1935.

San Jose Staters accounted for the only meet marks in duel action against Cal. Evans' 46.5 in the quarter, Papanicolaou's vault and Tucker's triple jump (49-4¼) were the record breakers here.

Smith didn't have to overwork to gain his goals or there might have been a couple more standards established.

He made up three yards with ease and finished as many ahead on the anchor leg of the 440 relay, coasted home to a 9.5 win in the 100, was satisfied to finish second to teammate Evans in the 220 and teased Cal's hard-striving Larry Hengl before taking the mile relay.

TOMMIE LOAFS

The first three Spartans gave Smith a comfortable lead in the mile relay and Tommie proceeded to loaf until Hengl looked him in the eye coming into the home stretch.

The Spartan world-record holder turned it on enough to win by six yards going away.

While the day represented a real upward swing for Bear track fortunes, it may not last for long. Next Saturday at Edwards, Cal has to cope with mighty UCLA while Smith and the Spartans shoot for honors at the Mt. San Antonio Relays.
