~~(9-63) - have fun~~

(Ames, Iowa, May 16-17 (from Jim Henderson)--Jim Ryun's last 880 experience in Iowa had been a none too pleasant one. who knew the circumstances In a move no discerning track fan judged him too harshly for, Jim had dropped out two-thirds of his way through ~~the Drake~~ his Drake Relays sprint medley leg. ~~But~~ He ~~is~~ acquitted himself quite nicely for that at the Big Eight championships here, dashing twice around the water-logged track in 1:48.7.

(A time this fast couldn't have been much less likely . After perfect weather Friday, 1½ inches of rain flooded ~~the~~ the facilities that night, and the temperature hovered around 48° ~~degrees~~ the second day. The conditions slowed the sprinters and hurdlers measurably. First for Ryun, came the formality of the mile. Leading much of the way, he paced through perfectly even laps of 63.0, ~~26.0~~ 63.0, 63.0, then stuck on a 59.9 finale for ~~the~~ a 4:08.9 victory.

(The 880 came just 40 minutes afterward. Through a quarter of it, Ryun didn't show much spark. Only one man in the final field of nine trailed him at halfway as Jim had 55.5. He leaped to life right after that, though, and passed everyone by 150 yards ~~later~~ later. Showing a strength-filled drive the whole last lap, Ryun covered it in 53.2.

(It was the Kansan's jumping-sprinting teammate Stan Whit-ley, though, who got the athlete-of-the-meet vote. In Friday's calm warmth, Stan stretched to a personal best (by a half-inch) of 26'1" in the long jump. Saturday, he played a part on Kansas' winning ⁿ 40.9 440 relay team and placed in the ~~100~~ 100, 220 and triple jump. In the ~~last~~ ^{triple} event, Nebraska's NCAA champ Lennox Burgher got his first important win of the outdoor season with 50'3 3/4".

Outside of Mel Gray's double sprint triumph, 9.5 in the 100 and 21.0 in the 220, it was primarily Kansas athletes who provided the highlights. On Friday, Doug Knop raised his discus PR by an even three feet with 192'8". Then Saturday, on a ring that had been under water just a couple of hours earlier, Kansas got its habitual shot sweep: Karl Salb 60'2 3/4", Steve Wilhelm 59'5 3/4", Knop 59'3 3/4".

The happiest of the winners might have been Bob Bornkessel. He only ran 52.7 in the intermediates, but he got his first victory since enrolling at Kansas last fall. He and Dennis Cotner of Oklahoma approached the last barrier together, but Cotner smacked it, stumbled and dropped to third in 53.1.
