State KOs Middies by 37 Points

On Saturday, Penn State's track and field team trimmed Navy and beat the elements with considerable ease.

"We beat individuals and the elements," Coach Harry Groves of the Nittany Lions said. "We've trained hard in nice weather and bad weather. We're used to rain hitting us in the face. We're used to throwing and jumping on slippery surfaces. All I know is that we came up with a number of fine competitive efforts on a miserable day."

State won 14 events of 18 events and drubbed the Middies at rainy Beaver Stadium, 92 1/2-61 1/2.

"Right down the line," Groves continued, we had kids come up with personal bests. It was a fantastic team effort all the way. We knew we had to do well in the field events. After the first three field events — hammer throw, shot put and long jump — we had them 20-7. The momentum was in our favor and we never let up. There was no stopping us."

In the process two Penn Staters — Roger Kauffman and Mike Reid — broke school records.

Kauffman broke a 58-year-old record when he tossed the hammer 176-1 1/2. The old mark (173-6) was set by Lee Talbot in 1911. Kauffman, a former State College High weightman, broke the record earlier in the competition with a throw of 174 feet. State picked up three more valuable points in the hammer event when John Glass, on his last throw, slipped into second place, one notch ahead of Doug Backes, 1969 NCAA 35-pounder.

half mile to date, Steve Gentry posted a 1:55.4 and missed beating Navy's Monty Felix by one-tenth second. Joe Niebel of the Lions was in third place at 1:55.5.

The results:

Lions swamp Middies

According to the book, it should have been a very close meet with the team that got a few breaks taking the victory.

However, as things have a way of happening in the world of sports, it didn't quite come off that way.

Sloshing around in the mud of Beaver Stadium and tearing around the new all-weather track, Penn State whipped a highly-regarded Navy track team Saturday, 92½-61½, in a dual meet conducted under continuous showers which at times turned into torrential down-pours.

"Our kids go blind whenever you mention the name 'Navy,'" Lion track coach Harry Groves said after it was all over. "I can't put into words but they seem to have a little something extra for the Middies."

Groves, a gentleman and diplomat, didn't want to say it but one of the reasons the Nittany Lions can get so high for any Navy team is the feeling that visitors get the short end of any officiating bargain at Annapolis. That, coupled with the fact its been more than a half-dozen years since Penn State has beaten Navy in track and an indoor loss (63-47) this season at the hands of the Middies, put the Lions in a hungry mood.

And they started right off the bat. State College's Roger Kauffman snapped a 58-year-old record in the hammer throw in the opening event of the afternoon with a heave of 176-1, bettering Lee Talbot's record of 173-6 set back in 1911.

Actually, Kauffman broke the record twice, once on his first heave and again on his third attempt. Two of his Navy opponents also heaved against him in the NCAA indoor championships this past season where Kauffman finished fourth.

Shot put was next and all-America defensive tackle Mike Reid went to work. The result was a put of 57 feet, three-quarters of an inch, breaking the record of 56-3½ set by a former Penn State football player, Roosevelt Grier. Reid annexed the indoor shot mark this season with a toss of 55-0.

"The first two events laid them so low they couldn't get over it," Groves said. "Our guys were just up too far for them. Navy underrated us and that's a good way to get beat."

Despite the constant rain, two Lions came through with victories in events considered very tough on a wet day, javelin and pole vault at 13-6.

Ray Blinn took the long and triple jumps, Al Sheaffer won the mile and two-mile runs and Ken Brinker grabbed victories in the high hurdles and 220 for the Lions.

Villanova, the Lions opponent Saturday in Philadelphia, "is so sure they're going to beat us they made it alumni day," Groves said. "They'd better find a few field men before Saturday because our men got over an awfully important hurdle Saturday against Navy and I know they'll be ready."
