

Carlmont sweeps x-country titles

Carlmont High isn't going to be satisfied with only the boys Central Coast Section cross country championship. The Scots served notice at the Region II finals Friday that they intend to bid for the first girls' title as well.

Meanwhile, Carlmont senior Bob Love looks primed in his chase for individual honors, while Menlo-Atherton is pleased with the finest showing in its cross-country history.

As expected, Carlmont breezed to varsity honors, with 42 points to 87 for runnerup Saratoga, giving the Scots their fifth Region II title in the meet's nine-year history. Love, as expected, won, but in a fearsome 14:56, best prep time of the year on the 2.95-mile Crystal Springs course and his second best ever.

Cupertino's Dave Avila was second, 32 seconds back.

M-A's leading runner — fast-developing Andrew Jones — was 14th, but the Bears turned in a fine team effort for 130 points and a solid third. Gunn and Cubberley were the fourth and fifth qualifiers for the CCS finals Tuesday on the same course.

Martin Vavuris of Cubberley finished seventh, clocking 15:53.

It was M-A's best Region II showing and will be the first time the Bears have competed as a team at CCS.

Carlmont and San Carlos ran one-two in the girls race with 63 and 76 points, respectively, followed by the other qualifiers, Homestead, Saratoga and Cupertino.

"We ran seven seconds faster as a team than (CCS favorite) Half Moon Bay did (while winning) in Region I the day before," said Carlmont coach Loren Lansberry. "Hey, we're going out to win it."

Saratoga's Diane Figliomeni was individual winner in 18:43.

Lancers win regionals

St. Francis High, which has improved steadily all season and now looms as a threat for the Central Coast Section cross country title, won the Region I finals Friday at Crystal Springs in overwhelming fashion.

Tom Tuite's Lancers scored 42 points to 91 for Capuchino, 110 for Half Moon Bay and 117 for Serra, the other three teams which also qualified for the CCS finals Tuesday on the same rugged 2.9-mile course.

St. Francis placed its five scoring runners all within the top 18 in the 78-man race — Phil McCarty third, Mark Sullivan fourth, Paul McClure sixth, Kurt Rochlitz 12th and Jim Kaspari 18th.

Jefferson twins Glenn and Gil Dean were one-two in the varsity.

Half Moon Bay won both the girls and frosh-soph titles, as expected, and figures to make a strong bid for both CCS titles.

Becky Schmidt won girls honors in 18:37. Her teammates weren't far behind as HMB outpointed San Mateo, 20-36.

HMB's frosh-soph scored 40, far better than San Mateo's 82. Mills's 102 and St. Francis's 130. Mills's Dave Marson won in a strong 16:16, but Lancer freshman Scott Gale was outstanding in second at 16:20.
