PENINSULA TIMES TRIBUNE/STAFF

Carlmont and Woodside each placed six runners in the top 20 of the Peninsula Athletic League boys cross-country championships Thursday at Crystal Springs.

The difference, however, may have been the personal-best performances by Carlmont's Roberto Tercero and Javier Herrera as the Scots edged Woodside, 53-56.

Tercero, a sophomore, finished ninth in 17:22 on the 2.9-mile course — a best on the course by 26 seconds — and Herrera, a junior, finished 17th in 17:59, a best by eight seconds.

Carlmont's top five finished 6-8-9-13-17 (Juan Guarneros, Tom Musgrave, Tercero, Henriques, Herrera, plus Derek Dennis in 20th) and within 51 seconds of one another.

Dan Sorensen (fourth, 17:05) and Niells Jensen (fifth, 17:06) led Woodside's contingent.

PREP ROUNDUP

Thai Phang-Quang of Mills captured the individual title, in 16:36, eight seconds ahead of San Mateo junior Antony Nash. Aragon's Brent Reid was third.

In the girls race, Mills easily won, with 28 points, followed by Aragon (46).

Mills standout Diana Harlick rested an injured leg while her sister Jeanene won the title in 19:38. Mills went 1-2-3-7-15.

In the Christian Private Schools Athletic Association championships, Carl Bracken and Tom Iwata of Menlo School placed sixth and seventh on the three-mile Coyote Hills course in Fremont. Monte Vista Christian of Watsonville won the team title.
