Lynn Tillett, showing more justice to her potential after a bleak first part of the season, cleared 208" in BJ. With holidays over, the things should start to pick-up. NOTE--Adrienne Beames (29) who for almost 2 years has not competed in organised meetings, but is running in time trials organised by her coach, Fred Warwick, ran 1M in 4.28.8 at Narrabeen (NSW) on a grasstex track on Jan.7 and passed through 1500m in 4.09.6. Two days earlier, on a grass track at Sydney, she ran 3000m in 9.27.6 and 5,000 in in 15.48.5. In mid-August, she covered a full marathon in Victoria in 2.46.30. Miss Beames is ~~xxxxx~~ fighting for introduction of long distance events for women and all her times have been taken by timekeepers from pro. running circle. No new of her amateur status but as she intend to run in the women's internationa cross-country meet at Cambridge (England) in March, she may be o.k. It's a pitty that Australia is not likely to have her in the team for the Munich Games. I'm making further investigations on the subject
