330-finishers

Rex Maddaford of Eastern New Mexico University is batting 1.000 in National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) meets.

The former New Zeland Olympic star raced away from a record field of more than 500 runners to win the 15th annual NAIA Cross-Country Championship in Liberty, Mo., Nov. 22.

It was a second feather in the cap of the young runner who was named the outstanding athlete in the NAIA track meet at Billings, Mont., last spring. He won the 3-mile and 6-mile events there after enrolling at Eastern New Mexico at the start of the second semester.

After trailing perennial challenger David Ellis of Eastern Michigan and defending champion Ralph Foote of Taylor (Ind.) early in the race, Maddaford worked the hills well and grabbed the lead early in the third mile of the five-mile layout.

Despite strong ~~gusting~~ winds on a sunny ~~evening~~ ^{MORNING}, Maddaford was timed in 25:29.4 over the hilly course at Claycrest Golf Club in Liberty, Mo. Mike McDonald of Adams (Colo.) State finished second in 25:36.

Maddaford, a resident of Auckland, New Zeland, was a finalist in the 10,000-meter run as a member of the New Zeland team in the 1968 Olympics.

For Ellis, who finished 20 seconds behind the winner, it was another frustrating but impressive finish. The Eastern Michigan star was third last year and second in the two previous NAIA championships.

Ellis found some satisfaction in leading his team to the title, however, as Coach Bob Parks' squad placed three runners in the top 16 to easily outdistance defending champion Fort Hays (Kan.) State. Eastern Michigan had 86 points and Fort Hays finished with 138.

Only five runners were able to cover the rugged course in less than 26 minutes but the next 25 finishers all were in in less than 27 minutes and no less than 112 runners had completed the course at the 28-minute mark.

The top 15 finishers were named to the NAIA All-America cross-country team. Jack Weyers of Peru (Neb.) State was fourth followed by David Antognoli, Edinboro (Pa.) State; Alvin Penka, Fort Hays; Jim Howell, North Carolina Central; Tom Fleming, Paterson (N.J.) State; Ronnie Cope, David Lipscomb (Tenn.); Foote; Dan Cloeter, Concordia (Neb.); Len Brenny, St. Cloud (Minn.); Al Rude, Occidental (Calif.); Terry Furst, Eastern Michigan; and Pat Rinn, Nebraska-Omaha.

Maddaford led Eastern New Mexico to third in the team standings. Following in order were Occidental, Adams State, Central Washington, David Lipscomb, Taylor, Southern Oregon and Loras (Iowa).

The meet, believed to be the largest ever held, attracted runners from 72 colleges with 46 teams having enough runners finish to qualify for the team title.

William Jewell College served as host for the meet with Cardinal Coach Darrel Gourley serving as meet director. An awards banquet on the suburban Kansas City campus immediately followed the meet.
